University Endowment Lands: Service Provision

The University Endowment Lands (UEL) is one of three jurisdictions on the Point Grey Peninsula: City of Vancouver; UEL (the Province); and University of British Columbia. Others also have interests in the area — for example, in addition to UEL administration, the province provides other services such as arterial roads; Musqueam First Nation has reserve land and fee simple property in West Point Grey; and Metro Vancouver (regional district) provides regional services.

As in other communities in B.C., there are a range of public services delivered on the Point Grey Peninsula — from land use planning to sewer systems to parks. How these services are delivered and who provides them varies between the parts of Point Grey in the UEL area, the UBC residential neighbourhoods (University Neighbourhoods Association) and the City of Vancouver.

“There are considerable variations in service arrangements between the UEL, the University residential neighbourhoods (UBC) and the City of Vancouver”

This factsheet provides a snapshot of which entity provides key services and functions in the UEL, the UBC neighbourhoods, and the City of Vancouver (see figure on next page). This list is not exhaustive — for example key regional services such as the Pacific Spirit Regional Park are provided by Metro Vancouver — but gives a sense of both the diversity and commonality of service arrangements on the Point Grey Peninsula.
