Literacy Haida Gwaii Community Literacy Plan and School District No. 50 Haida Gwaii District Literacy Plan

Introduction

The Ministry of Education requires that each school district collaborate with others within its communities to prepare a District Literacy Plan. The District Literacy Plan is to be—

- published
- prepared annually and submitted by July 15 of each year
- inclusive of education from early learning through adult learning
- consultative.

This joint Literacy Plan is a collaborative effort between Literacy Haida Gwaii and School District No 50 and involves a wide cross section of participants from all our island communities. Our belief is that “learning happens in all kinds of situations and throughout life, and learners need a diverse range of services that response to individual circumstances. Community-based learning is flexible and responsive. Supporting communities to continuously review what is available and what can be improved in a variety of contexts is powerful and effective. The community-based approach allows input from the ground up, tailoring learning opportunities to help people participate in local community life. The community infra-structure provides a variety of doors to learning, so that people can get the skills they need in ways that work for them. The community is where learning happens.”

From “Building Community Literacy from the Ground Up,” Brenda Le Clair

A District Literacy Plan is a statement of commitment by a school district to collaborate with key community stakeholders to improve literacy within their community. Built collaboratively on an evidence-based assessment of the needs and priorities of each community, District Literacy Plans will identify areas of focus for the improvement of literacy, describe strategic actions, including opportunities for improved access to literacy programs and services, and outline processes to monitor progress and make adjustments in order to improve literacy.

Community and District Context

Haida Gwaii is a remote archipelago of islands on the west coast of British Columbia that is home to about 5,000 people. The Haida Nation has continuously occupied Haida Gwaii for over 10,000 years and people of other descent have settled here over the last 150 years. Our population is divided into two distinct areas separated by a ninety-minute drive. The "north end" includes Masset, the Haida village of Old Massett, and Port Clements and the "south end" consists of Tlell, the Haida village of Skidegate, Queen Charlotte, and Sandspit. The school district has six schools with a total enrolment of 650 students, 9 administrators, 50 teachers and 37 support staff members.

Student enrolment has been on a steady decline since the 1990s. This has challenged our Secondary schools to provide comprehensive programs with a workable timetable as the student enrolment in any given year and grade fluctuates.

Low literacy is one of the many socio/economic issues affecting the communities on Haida Gwaii. The decline of local logging and fishing industries has shown the need for increased literacy skills and educational upgrading in seeking alternate and new meaningful employment opportunities.

2006 data collected in the HELP (Human Early Learning Partnership) Early Child Development Project show that the vulnerability of children in School District 50 (Haida Gwaii) is higher than most areas of the province and, significantly, is higher than it was in 2001. 49.2% of SD50 children are vulnerable in at least one area of development; the highest vulnerability (29.2%) is in the area of language and cognitive development. Since that time there has been some modest improvement but it is too soon to identify a trend.

The data from provincial FSA (Foundation Skills Assessment) testing also indicate that SD50 students score consistently lower than provincial averages. Recent results show that 61% of students entering grade eight meet or exceed reading comprehension standards; 58% meet or exceed numeracy standards. The six year Dogwood completion rate for non-aboriginal students is below the provincial average, and while aboriginal results are above the provincial average, they are still below 60%.

A range of needs emerges from this picture:

- for children to be better prepared for learning
- for students to be supported while in school and encouraged to complete high school
- for students who do not complete high school to have access to upgrading or skills training
- for parents to be empowered to support their children's education
- for adults to have access to literacy tutoring, adult basic education, skills training, and continuing education
- for adults to become active and contributing members of their communities
- for a community-based commitment to literacy and lifelong learning

The Literacy Assets Inventory shows that while many programs exist to address these needs, they are not available in all communities. In addition, barriers to participation, such as transportation and childcare, still exist.

Many of the strengths of Haida Gwaii's people cannot be measured. A rich oral tradition cannot be reflected on a Literacy Assets Inventory. Exposure to the land and sea and a profound awareness of the natural environment do not impact FSA scores. The value of the extended family, a strong sense of community, and well-developed professional partnerships cannot be shown on a map. These are the strengths we will build on to create more literate communities.

The Joint School District No 50 and Literacy Haida Gwaii Plan for Community Consultative Process

Comprehensive Consultation occurred in all communities and organisations from June 2007 through 2009. These can be reviewed in previous editions of the Literacy Plan. Organisations included the School District, NWCC, LHG, Skidegate Band Council, Old Massett Village Council, Masset Village Council, Port Clements Village Council, Queen Charlotte Village Council, Moresby Island Management Committee, School District No 50, Northwest Community College, Literacy Haida Gwaii, Haida Gwaii Community Futures, Haida Gwaii Career Development Centre, and the Gwaii Trust Society.

Overview of Goals and Objectives to Improve Community Literacy Making an Action Plan

The process of developing the goals, objectives and an action plan has been a year long commitment and has reached out to all segments of our Haida Gwaii community. The goals are organized under five broad areas that summarize the focus of the public responses and school district goals: cultural literacy and integration, accessibility, strength and confidence, resources, and services/programming.

The action plan below represents both easily attainable goals and activities and other more long term, dreamed for solutions to literacy objectives. The action plan that follows reflects the Read Now BC requirements to cover the areas of early childhood, K-12 school age children, adult learners and aboriginal learners in an integrated way throughout this plan. All these areas of literacy learning are incorporated in the plan.

The Community Literacy Plan goals for the 2010-11 program as taken from the planning framework and decided by a meeting of the Steering Committee will be:

- to see the goals of Haida cultural literacy and promoting Haida language as integrated into all actions and plans
- to educate and inform Haida Gwaii communities on the importance of early intervention for literacy success
- to provide transportation and child care when these services are needed to participate in literacy programs
- to support learning centres
- to raise awareness, capacity and confidence of parents as partners
- to support opportunities for youth and youth counselling

Where applicable, explanation of the alignment between existing or developing Community Literacy Plans and the District Literacy Plan.

1. Community cultural literacy and integration plans align with School District No 50's goal of improving academic and social success for Haida students which includes a variety of initiatives for Haida and First Nations images, stories, art, and modelling and mentoring adults as part of the district program
2. The District is always looking for successful learning spaces for our programs and we will work with Literacy Haida Gwaii to make spaces in our learning centres and schools available for community programs.
3. The District Early Learning Initiative developed from close alliances with Literacy Haida Gwaii and personnel continue to support community initiatives around early learning and developing and strengthening parent support of school and community literacy programs.
4. School libraries and community libraries work together to promote literacy. We are pleased to support a joint school/VIR Library space in our new school and community centre in Port Clements.
5. The School District's technology programs, computer literacy, and student publications and presentations using desk-top publishing and power-point presentations fit with the Community Literacy Plan for computer literacy. The School District supports using the latest computer and teleconferencing ideas to not only access off island professional development opportunities but also to help groups meet without leaving their community.
6. The District Literacy Program includes communication strategies to work between home and school, parallel work by Community Literacy programs will enhance and strengthen both networks and information distribution and communication.
7. The District's commitment to the SMART Reading program is a long term commitment. Parent and community understanding and education to the goals and strategies of this program can be reinforced with Community Literacy plans around encouraging parents to become active partners in their children's learning.
8. Secondary school's work experience programs and the literacy skills of interviewing, resume writing, letters of application and reading in the workplace are ways the school system is helping with essential employability skills. District literacy continues to focus on reading and writing at all age levels and in a multitude of genres.

Appendix C

Thinking about the 2010 Plan

Reflections on the 2009-10 year:

1. What priorities/objectives and actions from your 2009 District Literacy Plan have you addressed this year?
Continue to promote awareness of literacy events, issues and programs in all communities on the islands
Examples

SD50's early learning events and activities received free publicity and advertisement space on Literacy Haida Gwaii's "Read On Write On" column, a literary page in the weekly community newspaper.

Students from five out of six schools in the district attended a three-full-day writing and art workshop hosted by Literacy Haida Gwaii. A total of 40 students from the School District participated in the writing workshop with Dogrib Nation author Richard van Camp and the painting workshop with Cree artist George Littlechild.

Literacy Haida Gwaii continues to support SD50 in providing homework assistance after school for ALM students in Sandspit. Students from grades 5 to 10 can seek academic help once a week after school in any subject from a tutor paid by Literacy Haida Gwaii. Nutritional snacks and drinks are also provided for the students.

▪ What have been the major impacts or outcomes?

Promotion and publicity for our early learning programs were expanded through partnership with Literacy Haida Gwaii. This is at no cost to the District.

Students who participated at the writing and art workshop learned valuable writing skills and art technique from both professionals. Learning was brought to the students instead of having them travel off-island for such an opportunity. A good mix of students attended - from students who are below average to those who are academically able. The participants' works were celebrated at a community potluck feast in which the community came out to witness the students' achievements. This was a great way to validate the students' works and boost their morale in learning.

▪ What are the factors that contribute to success? Here you might consider partnerships, community resources, the task group, coordination, communication. Examples are important to include.

The small, local nature of Haida Gwaii permits strong, positive relationships - we all seem to know one another, and see each other in a variety of roles. Co-ordinating meetings, for example, are relatively easy, as is adjusting our goals or agreeing that an objective is met. Another strength is our multilayered approach; the School District, its Early Learning and Electronic School areas mutually support other, non-School District organisations, and so, in turn, does Literacy Haida Gwaii.

▪ Evaluating the effectiveness of community partnerships and development can be a challenge. However, if you have thought about or found effective ways to evaluate how you have achieved goals and objectives, this is important to include in your district literacy plan.

This is an area we will need to re-explore in the coming year as we re-assess our successes and challenges.

2. What has changed in the past year that affects literacy in the community? What has been the impact of these changes? How are you addressing these changes?

Over the past few years, there has been a gradual departure of more affluent families from the islands. While this has slowed recently, it has changed the composition of our communities. It also means some of our resource people have left. We are working on building new community resource people.

3. What have you learned about collaboration and the community development process?

Our stakeholders work very well together and we all have overlapping duties and goals. However, there is some degree of concern for possible "burn out" as relatively few people attempt to fulfil a variety of roles.

Thinking about the 2010-11 year:

4. Are there new opportunities, challenges, or issues in your community? How will you respond to those?

The new Port Clements Multiplex provides an example of co-operation and mutual support that could be emulated around the province. On the other hand, we continue to face the issue of a declining population, which creates a spiral of reduced support and fewer resources. An example of this is the closure of Moresby Adventure Camp (Temporarily, we hope) due to a lack of funding.

5. What adjustments have you made to your plan? What new initiatives are planned? What initiatives have been expanded or continued?

New initiative

Address the issue on learning disabilities in the district and the community.

In Fall, will partner with Literacy Haida Gwaii in bringing a learning disabilities simulation workshop facilitated by Learning Disabilities Association of Vancouver followed by a series of sharing workshops targetted at specific issues, strategies support etc.

Continued initiative

LHG's financial support for the local Haida programs from Skidegate Haida Immersion Program (SHIP), Language Nest in Old Massett, Haida programs in Tahayghen and Sk'aadgaa Naay Elementary Schools, and Chief Mathews School.

Continue to support opportunities for youth

LHG's financial support to Swan Bay for this year's summer program for youth. Program includes the learning and promotion of the Haida language as well as food gathering.

6. What will be required to meet the goals and effectively employ actions for the coming year?

Continued communication between various partner groups is essential. Reliable and predictable funding from our agencies would also be a tremendous asset, especially in the Early Learning area.

7. How will you measure or assess your progress?

A number of our goals are already accomplished (ie, Transportation); others are ongoing and are independent of actual data, for example support for literacy will be permanent no matter what results of various tests and surveys indicate; finally, we continue to monitor all areas for indications of improvement or decline and then adjust which goals we focus on.
