Background

In a letter dated November 15, 2006, sent via courier to the licensee's registered office, the branch informed the licensee that there would be a pre-hearing telephone conference on November 20, 2006. The letter advised that if the licensee failed to participate in the pre-hearing conference, the general manager may make a decision without conducting an enforcement hearing.

The pre-hearing conference could not proceed because the licensee failed to participate. The registrar's attempt to reach the licensee by telephone was unsuccessful, and her telephone message was not returned.

In a registered letter dated November 21, 2006, the registrar informed the licensee that due to his failure to participate in the pre-hearing conference, he had lost the opportunity to have this matter determined by way of an oral hearing. The licensee was given the opportunity to provide a written submission by November 30, 2006. Canada Post's records show that the licensee has not picked up the letter from the local post office.

On December 13, the registrar spoke with Tim Guest, the corporate licensee's director. He confirmed that he had received the NOEA and was aware of the branch's allegations. The registrar explained that he had the opportunity to respond to the allegations if he wanted to do so. He stated that the licensee would not respond because the establishment has ceased operations and he did not want to put any more time or effort into the business.

Applicable Statutory Provisions

See Schedule A, attached.

Issues

1. Whether the licensee contravened the Act and Regulation as alleged?
2. If so, what enforcement action, if any, is warranted?

Particulars of Allegations

The particulars of the alleged contraventions are contained in the NOEA.

Licensee's Response

The licensee has chosen not to provide information to refute what the branch alleges took place.

Decision

I find, based on the information contained in the NOEA, and absent any response from the licensee, that

1. On August 25, 2006, the licensee contravened section 20(1)(d) of the Act and section 11(1) of the Regulation by operating the licensed establishment in a manner that was contrary to the primary purpose of the business as stated on the licence; and

2. On August 25, 2006, the licensee contravened section 43(2)(b) of the Act by permitting an intoxicated person to remain in that part of a licensed establishment where liquor is sold, served or otherwise supplied; and
3. On September 8, 2006, the licensee contravened section 73 of the Act by failing to produce documents or records requested by the liquor inspector.

Penalty

Having found that the contraventions are proven, section 20(2) of the Act gives me the discretion to order one or more of the following enforcement actions:

- impose a suspension of the liquor licence for a period of time;
- cancel a liquor licence;
- impose terms and conditions to a licence or rescind or amend existing terms and conditions;
- impose a monetary penalty;
- order a licensee to transfer a licence

Imposing any penalty is discretionary. However, if I find that either a licence suspension or monetary penalty is warranted, I am bound to follow the minimum set out in Schedule 4 of the Regulation. I am not bound by the maximum and may impose higher penalties when it is in the public interest to do so. I am not bound to order the penalties proposed in the NOEA.

There is no record of proven contraventions of the same type having been committed by the licensee while he was the licensee of record within the 12 month period prior to the commission of these contraventions. Therefore, these contraventions must be treated as first contraventions for the purposes of determining penalty.

1. Operating contrary to the primary purpose of the licence

An establishment with a food primary licence is authorized to offer liquor service as an accompaniment to a meal, rather than as the primary activity. It is contrary to the public interest for the branch to allow restaurants to operate as bars. Public and local government input is required for liquor primary licences but not for food primary licences and operating a restaurant as a bar circumvents this process.

The current licensee has been operating this establishment since January 30, 2006. Since then there have been several occasions when the branch raised concerns with him regarding how the establishment is operated. The branch issued CN #B007771, for alleged contraventions on February 17, 2006: unauthorized third party use of licence, unauthorized structural alterations, liquor removed from red lined area, failure to have a valid business licence available for inspection. Again, on August 25, 2006, the branch identified an unauthorized structural change (a stage). These allegations were not pursued beyond the issuance of contravention notices.

Under the circumstances, I find that the maximum liquor licence suspension of fifteen (15) days is warranted. I believe that a suspension of this length will allow the licensee to continue to operate and focus on its primary purpose which is the service of food.

2. Permitting intoxicated person to remain

The branch's records indicate that on March 31, 2006, the licensee was alleged to have committed the same contravention. The branch issued CN #B001345 for that incident but chose not to pursue further enforcement action. Instead, on April 19, 2006, the branch held a compliance meeting with the licensee to discuss the licensee's responsibility regarding service and removing intoxicated patrons.

I conclude that a suspension is now required to ensure that the licensee understands the importance of detecting and removing intoxicated patrons. Therefore, I find that a four (4) day suspension of the liquor licence is appropriate.

3. Fail to produce document, record as requested

I note that this is the second time that the branch has made this type of allegation regarding this licensee; first as the operator of the business and then as licensee. Our records indicate that on May 2, 2006, the now licensee allegedly failed to produce records pertaining to the events of April 10, 2006, when two minors were killed in a motor vehicle accident minutes after leaving the establishment. The branch chose not to pursue that contravention.

Under the circumstances, I find that the maximum licence suspension is warranted in this case. The failure to produce documents and records seriously undermines the relationship between the branch and the licensee and impairs the branch's ability to identify and address contraventions and protect the public interest. I find that a fifteen (15) day suspension of the liquor licence is appropriate.

Order

Therefore, pursuant to s. 20(2) of the Act, I order a suspension of food primary licence #300884 for a period of thirty-four (34) days, to commence as of the close of business on Thursday, January 18, 2007, and to continue each succeeding business day until the suspension is completed. "Business day" means a day on which the licensee's establishment would normally be open for business (Section 67 of the Regulation).

To ensure this order is effective, I direct that food primary licence #300884 be held by the branch or the Langley Detachment of the RCMP from the close of business Thursday, January 18, 2007, until the licensee has demonstrated to the branch's satisfaction that the suspension has been served.

Yours truly,
