

February 20, 2014 | 1:30 - 3:00 PST

Green Energy as a Rural Economic Development Tool Project: Products & Resources

Join us for the Economic Development Division's second webinar about the Green Energy as a Rural Economic Development Tool Project to explore opportunities in the area of renewable energy. One of the key objectives of the Green Energy project is to organize and deliver a series of regional outreach and knowledge extension activities throughout rural interior BC to rural communities and First Nations throughout the mountain pine beetle epidemic zone to assist them with the identification and development of green energy development opportunities in their respective communities.

Learn more about:

- The Green Energy as a Rural Economic Development Tool project, the outcomes of the project and opportunities to assist rural communities and First Nations in B.C.
- The case studies which outline the experiences and lessons learned by municipalities and First Nations in developing small scale hydro-electric power generation projects
- The various guides/resources that exist to assist communities that may be considering developing a renewable energy project or utility

This webinar will also provide you with an opportunity to ask questions and learn more about available resources.

Join online

at no cost

Webinar presenters include:

- Marc Imus, Director, Community Economic Development, Ministry of Jobs, Tourism and Skills Training, who will be discussing the partners and process involved in the Green Energy as a Rural Economic Development Tool Project: <http://www.ruralbcgreenenergy.com/>
- Gordon Borgstrom, Southern Interior Beetle Action Coalition (SIBAC) Consultant, who will be discussing the various products and resources developed over the course of the project. More information on the Southern Interior Beetle Action Coalition (SIBAC) can be found at: <http://www.sibacs.com/>
- To become familiar with the various initiatives, we encourage you to visit: <http://www.ruralbcgreenenergy.com/>

Register today at:

<http://www.ruralbc.gov.bc.ca/webinars/index.html>

Registration Deadline: February 17, 2014