

“has shown many of us the way that was not always apparent”

“the enthusiasm and energy she brings to her work are a remarkable asset”

“the people she works with in the future will be fortunate to experience the gifts she has to offer”

Donna Horn

Facilitator and Learning Organization Practitioner

Donna worked for twelve years as a public servant before founding Inspiricity Consulting in 2008.

She has extensive experience in facilitation. Areas of expertise include: learning organization philosophy and tools, session design, business processes, employee engagement, non-directive coaching, team building, and operating style assessments.

She served as Road Ahead Champion for the business transformation initiative in the Ministry of Forests and Range, and acted as liaison and coordinator for the inter-agency facilitation team for the Conversation on Health.
