

The British Columbia Ministry of Attorney General offers interesting and varied articles at its offices in Victoria and Vancouver, and in Crown Counsel offices around the province. The Ministry will be interviewing soon for summer articulated student positions starting in May 2024. Further information about the Articled Student Program is available at: <http://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/justice/for-legal-professionals/articled-student-program>.

Students who complete their summer articles with the Legal Services Branch will work with the Small Claims Program on their own files. These files enable students to build skills in litigation, practice management, client service, and effective communication. Students are supported by supervising lawyers, who provide advice and guidance with issue spotting, legal drafting, courtroom and file preparation, and any questions that arise along the way.

The three summer student positions will lead to articles for 2025-26, subject to satisfactory performance during the summer 2024 temporary articles and subject to budgetary approval. Applications for articles not linked to summer positions are expected to be accepted from mid-January until late February 2024. Details on how to apply for those positions will be available through the home page of our website starting in January 2024.

We are committed to creating a diverse workplace to represent the population we serve and to better meet the needs of our citizens per the Public Service Act. We welcome and encourage applications from women, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, persons with disabilities, persons of diverse sexual orientation, gender identity or expression (LGBTQ2S+), and others who may contribute to diversity in the BC Public Service.
