Contractor of the Year Awards - Award for Community Service

Road and bridge construction and maintenance contractors are an important part of communities across the province and play a much larger role than purely building and maintaining roads and bridges. Their contribution to communities in B.C. take a variety of forms including volunteering labour and equipment for community projects and events and supporting local organizations. The Community Service Award recognizes the outstanding contribution the road building industry provides to communities across the province. The award will be presented at the Contractor of the Year Awards Ceremony in December 2023.

NOMINATIONS

Eligibility

Companies in the road building industry (including the construction, maintenance and service and supply sectors) that have worked on at least one Ministry project during the year are eligible for this award. Nominations can be submitted by anyone who would like to recognize the contribution of road building contractors to a community. Nominations can be submitted by:

- Community members
- Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure staff
