BC GAMES

A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

The BC Winter and BC Summer Games are British Columbia's biennial celebration of sport and community. Since 1978, the BC Games have taken place in 38 communities and involved over 350,000 participants and volunteers and thousands more as spectators and supporters.

The BC Games are a milestone event that people count as an experience of a lifetime where memories, friendships, spirit, and pride are abundant.

British Columbia's best emerging high performance athletes, trained coaches, and certified officials train throughout the year for the chance to meet for four days of competition at the BC Games. It is an important development opportunity and stepping stone for these athletes toward one day representing Canada at the most elite levels of competition.

Volunteers are the driving force behind the BC Games. They contribute their expertise, energy, and commitment for months to ensure athletes have the best experience possible and a lasting legacy is left in their community.

Numerous partners are necessary to stage such a large and complex event. Cooperation from provincial and municipal governments, school districts, corporations, and not-for-profit organizations creates a compelling team to power the BC Games.

The BC Games are more than a four day event. Every day in every corner of the province people are dreaming of, preparing for, and contributing to the BC Games. And long after the event the memories and legacies are evident as individuals and communities benefit from their experience at the BC Games.

While competition is the backbone of the BC Games, at its heart are the spirit of competition, camaraderie and friendship, teamwork, and the setting of goals for individual and community excellence.

SPORTS

The BC Games are a unique opportunity to be associated with a winning product. You can make a significant impact in the lives of athletes, coaches, officials, volunteers and their families in every corner of the province.

The athletes at the BC Games are our next generation of Canadian heroes. Each has committed to their sport and trained to qualify for a place at the Games. Representing one of eight geographic zones, they come to test themselves and compete against the best this province has to offer. The Games are a springboard to the next levels of competition and provide a valuable multisport experience where physical and mental strength are challenged in a distracting, but fun environment.

We know that behind every successful athlete is a tremendous support team. Competing at the BC Games is an achievement for athletes and their families alike and we see mothers, fathers, siblings, and grandparents in the stands cheering, celebrating, and experiencing the BC Games.

The BC Games are also an opportunity for coaches and officials to put their systems and skills into practice. As sport leaders, these people are essential to building a strong sport system where every British Columbian has the opportunity to participate in sport.

From 9 to 90+ years old, volunteers give their heart and soul to the BC Games. These dedicated individuals ensure athletes have the opportunity to go to the Games and once there, are treated to an amazing experience. We know that it is volunteers who create the rich fabric of our communities and define who we are. These are the people making a difference and ensuring our youth have opportunities and a bright future.

We are proud to count athletes like Brent Hayden (2012 Olympic Bronze Medalist, Swimming) and Maelle Ricker (2010 Olympic Gold Medalist, Snowboard) as some of our accomplished alumni. These athletes have reached the highest levels of sport but, they each remember that their journey started with a trip to the BC Games.

45 BC Games alumni competed for Team Canada at the 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games.

GOLD MEDAL PARTNERS

Teamwork is the foundation of sport and by joining the BC Games you will become part of a strong and successful team. Together, we create exceptional experiences through sport.

BC Games Society is a Crown Agency within the Ministry of Community, Sport and Cultural Development. A community based Board of Directors oversees policy and direction of the organization and 10 full time staff work continuously with every host community. With a successful 36-year history, the Society is recognized as a leader for multisport event and volunteer management.

British Columbia communities bid for the rights to host the BC Winter or BC Summer Games. Once the Games are awarded, a team of community volunteer leaders are recruited and form a Host Society to plan and stage the Games with the support of the BC Games Society.

Our two Societies are supported by the Province of BC, the local municipality, and the school district, each of whom commit significant resources to the BC Games. Sport and community not-for-profit organizations contribute to the team with their expertise and passion for all aspects of the Games planning and staging.

The corporate sector, represented by national, provincial, and local companies, is an essential part of our team. The companies who back the Games are our champions and they share our core values and belief in youth, sport, and community.

The combined commitment of our partners creates a gold medal team and a podium finish at the BC Winter and BC Summer Games.

The Games created important social, economic, and sport legacies for Surrey. Our amazing volunteers and partners helped us host a world-class event that created life-long memories for the athletes and our community. We witnessed tremendous athletic talent and competitive spirit and it was a rewarding experience for everyone involved.

- Dianne Watts, Mayor, City of Surrey
Host of the 2012 BC Summer Games

The BC Games Society's annual $2.3 million budget is provided through government and corporate contributions. Current Corporate Partners include Global BC, Black Press, Jazz Air, CN, and Coast Capital Savings.

Host Societies receive funding from the BC Games Society towards their budgets and then recruit local businesses as Friends of the Games to enhance the event.
