

REQUEST FOR PHOTOCOPY OF AN HISTORIC MARRIAGE EVENT

(NOT ON RELEASED MICROFILMS)

SHADED AREA FOR OFFICE USE ONLY

Through the British Columbia Archives website the public can search for publicly released birth, marriage and death records. The original registration documents are available on microfilm through the BC Archives Reading Room, the Victoria Genealogical Society, any Family History Centre of the Church of the Latter-day Saints, and a number of libraries in the province. The addresses of these centres are listed on the British Columbia Vital Statistics Agency guide, Genealogy Resources for British Columbians found at:

MAILING ADDRESS INFORMATION

There are a small number of marriage registrations that are not currently available to the public on microfilm. These events were registered some time after the event occurred and are on microfilm reels which are not yet publicly releasable. In the index, the microfilm number for these records may be shown as "NOT FILMED". As a special service to those researching their family genealogy, the BC Vital Statistics Agency will provide a photocopy of the registration free of charge. The Agency is working on a project to provide more open access to copies of these records but in the interim, copies for personal use are only provided for one or two registrations at a time.
