

BC Health Care Assistant (HCA) Programs -Minimum English Language Competency Requirements

To be accepted into a recognized BC HCA program, applicants are required to demonstrate proficiency in English. Students must be able to communicate effectively in English in order to be successful in their studies and to be capable of providing safe and competent care to patients/clients/residents in the work environment. Teamwork and communication failures are a primary cause of patient safety incidents in healthcare; the ability to communicate effectively is one of the fundamental safety competencies identified by the Canadian Patient Safety Institute (CPSI).

All BC HCA program applicants are required to demonstrate English language proficiency. Domestic and/or international applicants who are non-native English speakers will need to take a standardized proficiency assessment to confirm communicative competency in all four language skills areas (speaking, listening, reading and writing).

Additional Criteria - English Language Competency Requirements

To support educational institutions in ensuring applicants meet Registry English language competency requirements, the following criteria have been put into place:

- 1. To achieve functional language proficiency and be termed as a native English speaker, one would require seven (7) years of education in a listed country with English language systems/institutions (see list provided below). These years could be acquired in either a consecutive or non-consecutive manner. If, however, these years were all consecutive and inclusive of only secondary or post-secondary education in an English-speaking environment, the number of years to meet the native English speaker requirement could be achieved in a period of 4 years.
- 2. The Registry has established the following list of countries as those with English language systems/institutions. ¹

Countries with English language systems / institutions (where English is a primary, official language and the language used for education)
