

British Columbia Half-Masting Policy

Procedures:

Flags are flown at the half-mast position as a sign of respect and mourning for an individual of precedence.

The position of the flag, when flying half-mast will depend on its size, the length of the flagstaff and its location. As a general rule, the centre of the flag should be exactly halfway down the flagstaff or pole. The flag must be lowered at least to a position recognizably “half-mast” to avoid the appearance of a flag that has accidentally fallen away from the top of the mast/staff owing to a loose flag rope.

The flag is brought to the half-mast position by first raising it to the top of the mast/pole and then immediately lowering it slowly to the half-mast position.

On occasions requiring that a flag be half-masted, all flags flown together should also be half-masted. Where the direction is to lower the National (Main) Flag and only the Provincial Flag is flying, the notice shall apply to the Provincial Flag.

Flags will only be half-masted on those flagpoles fitted with halyards and pulleys. Some buildings fly flags from horizontal or angled poles, without halyards, to which flags are permanently attached. Flags positioned as such will not be half-masted.

Flags are not normally half-masted in British Columbia for the death of Federal Ministers, Senators or Members of Parliament who are not from British Columbia, nor the death of a current or former foreign or Commonwealth Head of State or Government, as they are recognized by Federal jurisdiction. (However, the Premier has discretionary provisions in these cases.)

As soon as the Department of Canadian Heritage is advised of the death of a person mentioned below, or of a person whom it is desired to honour, they will inform all federal agencies and the British Columbia Office of Protocol. The Protocol office will then inform, by e-mail all Province of British Columbia offices, Crown Corporations and Agencies, Courts and other Government Institutions through the Ministry of Citizens Services, Real Property Division, which provides direction to CBRE Ltd. (Commercial Real Estate Services Canada).

In regard to half-masting the Canadian Flag: it is at the discretion of whoever owns the flag pole and/or the property on which the flag pole resides.

Occurrence of Statutory Holidays, Heads of State Visits and Death of the Sovereign that coincide with Half-Mastings: If a period of half-masting coincides with a Statutory Holiday, visit of a Head of State, or the death of the Sovereign, the flag shall be raised to full-mast on all Provincial Government buildings including the Parliament Buildings. This includes the following legal holidays Victoria Day, Canada Day and British Columbia Day. These procedures do not apply while the flag is half-masted marking the death of the Sovereign, as it should only be raised to full-mast for the day on which the accession of the new Monarch is proclaimed.

Flags will be flown at half-mast at all provincial government buildings, Crown corporations and agencies, courts and institutions in British Columbia on the following special days and in the case of the death of certain people as indicated below:
