

Over the past 2 weeks, I have read and heard in the news about an overly hyped project about apologizing for some discomfort experienced by a bunch of chinese people about 100 years ago. People are actually obsessing over the right words just to apologize to a bunch of people who arent even here anymore.

Who's going to apologize and compensate everyone else in canada for all THEIR pain and suffering? Why are the chinese more important than the rest of us? The current canadian government doesnt owe them anything.
