Dear [client name]:

As a person who has previously applied for Persons with Disabilities designation but was found ineligible through the Ministry of Social Development and Social Innovation, you may be eligible for Canada Pension Plan Disability (CPPD) benefits from the federal government.

CPPD benefits may provide you with:

- Higher Canada Pension Plan (CPP) retirement benefits
- A higher rate than income assistance
- The option to receive these benefits anywhere in Canada

The ministry will assist you to apply for CPPD benefits. Please contact me at the address or phone number noted below to help you determine your eligibility for this program.

Phone: 1-866-866-0800

Mailing Address: Provincial CPP Recovery Program - FASB
PO Box 9950 Stn Prov Govt
Victoria, BC V8W 9R3

As per section 14 of the Employment and Assistance Act and section 9 of the Employment and Assistance Regulation, you are required to pursue all other sources of income when requested.

The Ministry of Social Development and Social Innovation operates under the authority of the Employment and Assistance Act and Regulations, and the Employment and Assistance for Persons with Disabilities Act and Regulations.

Please note that to apply for CPPD benefits you will need:

- Your Social Insurance Number
- Birth certificate for you and any children you have
- List of work history including start and end dates, names of employers, country where employed and any work permit details
- All claim numbers, dates, and amounts for any accident, illness, or disability benefits from any insurance company, including Employment Insurance (EI) and WorkSafe BC, where applicable
- Medical history for the past two years including name, address, and phone number of family physicians, other physicians seen, hospitalizations, and any prescribed medications
- A void cheque if you want direct deposit for your CPPD benefits

For more information on CPPD benefits, please see the federal government web site at: www.servicecanada.gc.ca.

Sincerely,
