

Let's protect what matters most:
each other.

Influenza vaccination, regular handwashing and staying home when you're sick can help reduce the spread of respiratory illness and protect those around us.