

South Fraser Doctoral Residency Program In Clinical and Counselling Psychology

The South Fraser region is in the Lower Mainland of beautiful British Columbia. It spans the areas of Delta, Langley, Surrey, and White Rock and is less than 40-minute driving distance from Vancouver.

MISSION

The South Fraser Doctoral Residency Program in Clinical and Counselling Psychology is a comprehensive, full-time, year-long training program designed to prepare psychology residents for professional practice in psychology. Our program is committed to fostering the development of competent, ethical, and culturally sensitive psychologists. We offer a rich and diverse training experience within a collaborative and supportive environment.

Program Overview

Core Training Components:

- Clinical Experiences: Extensive supervised experience providing assessment, treatment, and consultation for children, youth, and families.
- Supervision: Regular individual and group supervision with licensed psychologists.
- Didactic Seminars: Weekly seminars covering advanced topics in professional practice, ethics, and equity and diversity.
- Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion: We are committed to fostering an inclusive and culturally-sensitive training environment that respects and values individual differences.

Our Approach:

The program emphasizes a scientist-practitioner model, integrating scientific knowledge with clinical application. We are dedicated to providing training that is responsive to the diverse needs of the populations we serve. This residency is ideal for individuals seeking a comprehensive foundation in child and youth mental health, emphasizing the ability to effectively respond to complex clinical cases and the diverse needs and contexts encountered in practice.

Details:

Each full-time residency position is offered for a duration of 12 months. As per the BC General Employees Union (BCGEU) Main Agreement for auxiliary employees, our residents receive an annual salary of $62,395.32.

Application

The South Fraser Doctoral Residency Program adheres to the APPIC match policies. Detailed information regarding eligibility criteria, application procedures, and deadlines can be found on the APPIC website: appic.org.

PLEASE NOTE: Registration for the Match does not constitute an application to our program. We abide by the APPIC policy to not solicit, accept, or use any ranking-related information from any residency applicant.

Contact Us:

For further inquiries, please visit our website or contact:

Dr. Rosalynn Record-Lemon, Director of Training
rosalynn.record-lemon@gov.bc.ca

Accreditation:

The South Fraser Doctoral Residency Program is accredited by the Canadian Psychological Association (CPA). Information on accreditation by the CPA is available by contacting:

Registrar of Accreditation - Canadian Psychological Association
141 Laurier Avenue West, Suite 702, Ottawa, ON K1P 5J3

<http://www.cpa.ca/accreditation>

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Ministry of Children and Development