The History section will only appear if the registration has been renewed, amended, or discharged.

The History section describes each registration action in the reverse order in which it occurred (most recent registration action listed first). You can use the History section to determine the status and contents of the registration at any point in time. For example, for each debtor listed in the Current Registration Information, you can determine if the debtor was added in the base (original) registration or if in a subsequent amendment. Likewise, if there was a debtor removed from the registration, the History section will allow you to determine when that debtor was removed (deleted).

For registration amendments, the History section also displays the Court Order and Details Description sections if that information was added via amendment. The Details Description section may contain relevant information about the registration such as a subordination or partial transfer of the security interest to a new debtor.

Amendment

An amendment activity displays the following information:

- Amendment Title
 - A descriptive title of the amendment activity or just the generic 'Amendment'.
- Registration Date and Time

General Collateral

If the general collateral in the registration has not been amended, the general collateral description contains one set of text. If the general collateral has been amended, the general collateral description contains multiple sets of text.

The PPR general collateral description is not a single text value, but rather a collection of additions and deletions; it enables the reader to determine the contents at any point in time. Point-in-time determinations can be very important for assessing priority between two competing property interests.

Note: The word "None" under the report's General Collateral or Vehicle Collateral sections means that the registration does not contain any of that collateral.

The following are recommendations for entering general collateral in new registrations or amendments and for reviewing general collateral text in PPR reports.

How to delete and add general collateral

There are two separate general collateral data fields available when performing an amendment: General Collateral to be Deleted and General Collateral to be Added.

The Delete field is used to either

- (a) indicate specific items, types, and kinds of collateral, or text to be removed from the description, or
- (b) to specify that the entire existing description is to be deleted.

It is important to understand that the Delete field does not actually remove any text from the existing general collateral description, instead it only describes what is being removed.

The Add field is used to either

- (a) add text to the existing general collateral description, or
- (b) provide entirely new text to replace the current description.

Reading in reverse chronological order

The modernized PPR presents general collateral from the base registration and amendments with the most recent information listed first. This is particularly valuable if amendments delete or add collateral completely.

Reading in chronological order: If reading for a point-in-time determination of the general collateral, or if no registration amendments have completely replaced prior collateral, then we recommend reading in chronological order. Start with the oldest registration at the bottom of the General Collateral section and read from the bottom to the top of the section.

Refreshing or replacing a general collateral description

The manner of addition and deletion of collateral is controlled by the registering party for each amendment. When appropriate, we encourage registering parties to consider replacing the general collateral by stating all previous collateral is to be deleted and providing entirely new collateral text; however, we emphasize caution to ensure that the replacement does not result in an unintentional loss of collateral. In an Amendment, you can COPY existing general collateral description text (for example by selecting the text and using CTRL-C or COMMAND-C), then you can PASTE the text into the Collateral to be Added field and edit it before registering your Amendment. You can also copy your text to an application outside of the PPR application to edit the description. If copying and editing text outside of the PPR application we advise using a plain text editor to avoid issues with formatting. Once you have edited your description you can copy it from your text editor and paste the new text back into the PPR application as Collateral to be Added.

Entry of General Collateral in an Amendment:

General Collateral

Indicate the General Collateral to be deleted from or added to this registration.

Note: If you are pasting text, we recommend pasting plain text to avoid formatting and font issues with PDF and printed registrations. If you have pasted text other than plain text, verify that your documents are correct. If they are not correct, they will need to be amended.
