

June 14, 2012

1:30 - 3:00 PST

Canada Starts Here: The BC Jobs Plan Progress & Engagement

Join us for the Economic Development Division's first webinar about Canada Starts Here: The BC Jobs Plan, which will focus on the progress made since the Jobs Plan was launched just over six months ago, as well as the planned next steps. More specifically, this webinar will inform you about some citizen and community engagement initiatives under the BC Jobs Plan, with presentations from senior staff within the Ministry of Jobs, Tourism, and Innovation and Ministry Citizens' Services and Open Government.

Learn more about how:

- The BC Government is working to protect and create jobs in BC communities;
- The BC Jobs plan citizen engagement website has been utilized and how it is being revamped; and
- The Province is helping communities to advance their economic development priorities through the regional economic investment attraction pilots.

This webinar will also provide you with an opportunity to ask questions and share how you might get involved in the BC Jobs Plan website.

It may be the first web-based session in a series and we would like to hear about other BC Jobs Plan topics that you would be interested in learning more about.

To become familiar with the various initiatives, we encourage you to visit: <http://www.bcjobsplan.ca/>.

Join online

at no cost

Webinar presenters include:

- Greg Goodwin, Executive Director, Regional Economic Policy & Projects, Ministry of Jobs, Tourism and Innovation, who will be discussing Canada Starts Here: The BC Jobs Plan—6 Month Progress Report. Available at: http://www.bcjobsplan.ca/wp-content/uploads/2012/03/6_Month_Progress_Report.pdf;
- Tanya Twynstra, Director, Capacity Building, Citizen Engagement branch, Ministry of Citizens' Services and Open Government, who will be discussing the new developments on the BC Jobs Plan Citizen Engagement website at: <http://www.bcjobsplan.ca/>; and
- Amy Schneider, Director, Strategic Initiatives and Analysis, Regional Economic Policy & Projects branch, Ministry of Jobs, Tourism and Innovation, who will be sharing information about the Regional Economic Investment Attraction Pilots (more information at: http://www.jti.gov.bc.ca/economic_pilots/index.htm).

Register today at:

<http://www.ruralbc.gov.bc.ca/webinars/index.html>

Registration Deadline: June 11, 2012