Terms of Reference for Bilateral Management Committee Members – Bilateral Water Management Agreement between BC/NWT

Finalized June 2, 2020

1. Background
In 1997, the governments of Canada, British Columbia (BC), Alberta, Saskatchewan, Northwest Territories (NWT), and Yukon signed the Mackenzie River Basin Transboundary Waters Master Agreement, in order to promote cooperative water management across the Mackenzie River Basin. The Master Agreement commits all six governments to work together to maintain the ecological integrity of the aquatic ecosystem of the entire Mackenzie River Basin and develop bilateral water management agreements (BWMAs). These BWMAs are world-leading examples of provincial and territorial governments working together with Indigenous governments to manage shared aquatic ecosystems in a sustainable manner for present and future generations.

The Bilateral Water Management Agreement signed by the Province of British Columbia and the Government of the Northwest Territories (BC/NWT BWMA) mandates that the Province and Territory will establish a Bilateral Management Committee (BMC) to administer the Agreement and report on its achievements. Indigenous groups from BC and NWT are key parties of the BMC.

2. Purpose of Terms of Reference
These Terms of Reference (TOR) are intended to supplement sections 13 of the Agreement, which specifies BMC administration. The TOR is intended to guide the scope of work for BMC members and Technical Committee members related to classifying transboundary waters, establishing learning plans, setting, monitoring and assessing the achievement of transboundary water objectives in the Mackenzie River Basin, and providing a mechanism for information sharing, notification, and consultation; as well as administering the Agreement and reporting on its achievement. The TOR outlines the membership, roles and responsibilities, principles of engagement, communication protocols, and decision-making structure.

3. BMC Membership
The structure of the BMC is one member from BC, one member from NWT, one Indigenous member from NWT, and one Indigenous member from BC.
Alternates and additional members may be appointed as needed.

The BMC meetings will be supported by other committee(s) that prepare materials in advance of the annual meeting. Each Party is encouraged to have representation on any other committee formed to support the implementation of the Agreement.

4. Roles, Responsibilities, and Functioning of the BMC/Other Committee Members

As stated in s. 13.1.2 of the Agreement, several duties are required of the BMC:

- a) The BMC will develop and implement its internal working procedures including chairing, meeting records and financial tracking as needed.

- c) Each party will ensure a mechanism is in place to solicit and bring forward, in advance of the annual meeting, any input and interests from their public and First Nations and/or Aboriginal organizations.
- d) The BMC may establish committees to ensure the efficient and effective application of the RIM\(^1\) approach and to undertake other duties as required.
- e) The BMC will document outcomes of the bilateral consultations, track the achievement of the commitments in this Agreement, and prepare an annual report to be submitted to the responsible Ministers and made publicly available, that may identify issues and recommendations as required.
- f) The BMC will develop and approve a 3-5 year work plan that includes a review process as required to continually improve the Bilateral Water Management of Transboundary Waters.
- g) Each year, the BMC will approve an annual budget subject to the provisions in section 13.2.
- h) The BMC will undertake other activities as required to fulfill the commitments under this Agreement.

4.3 Communication Protocols

4.3.1 Discussions with other BMC or Other Committee members

The Parties are responsible for staff to provide secretariat duties to the BMC. The secretariat will help prepare meeting, communication, and briefing materials, annual reports and other such duties, and ensure they are sent to participants in a timely fashion for consideration and review. Materials may include the development of videos, pamphlets, a website, infographics, and any other mutually agreed upon materials that may be deemed suitable to support clear communications about activities related to implementing the Agreement.

The above-described commitment to effective communication is in addition to commitments to carry out annual reporting to the responsible Ministers and the public, as outlined in s. 13.1.2e of the Agreement.
The Parties will prepare and approve communications materials and will, when appropriate, collaboratively prepare those materials with the BMC and other committee members.

4.3.3 Media requests

5. Principles of Engagement
In addition to the aforementioned roles and responsibilities, members of the BMC and other committee(s) will be guided by the following principles:

Government-to-government relationships. The BMC members each recognize the importance of the collective government-to-government relationships and strive to work positively together to achieve shared outcomes that meaningfully consider the interests of each member.

Mutual Accountability and Transparency. Each member is responsible for its effective participation in BMC and other committee meetings and related work activities and work with each other to understand each other’s interests and shared goals and to advance tangible results and decision-making in an efficient and timely manner. A clear record of all actions and decisions will be maintained.

Informed, consensus-based decision making. BMC members will work together in ways that seek to align with the goals and objectives of the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (UNDRIP) and the Truth and Reconciliation Calls to Actions.

Actions and decisions of the BMC will be informed by the best available science and Indigenous knowledge. Decision-making will reflect a commitment to long-term sustainability and the benefit of future generations. The BMC acknowledges and respects the diverse interests of their broader constituencies and is committed to meaningful engagement with Indigenous and other governments, and communities, and interested parties throughout the watershed.

Co-learning, innovation, and adaptability. BMC members acknowledge that they are working together to manage the transboundary waters of the MRB and maintain the ecological integrity of the aquatic ecosystem. Therefore, they anticipate innovative, proactive solutions will emerge over time as a result of working together in partnership. BMC members will strive to be open-minded and receptive to new ideas and committed to exploring and learning together. They view differences of opinion as opportunities to learn. Agreements, structures, and processes, including these terms of reference, will be periodically reviewed, evaluated and adapted based on lessons learned.

Recognition of Indigenous laws, policies, and principles. The BMC is committed to seeking full participation of Indigenous members in the implementation of the Agreement, which may include integrating Indigenous laws, plans, strategies, policies, and knowledge for cooperatively managing transboundary waters in the Mackenzie River Basin.

6. Resourcing
The BMC will approve work plans and associated resourcing requirements. Resourcing of implementation tasks will be consistent with Appendix J of the Agreement, where bilateral tasks will be jointly funded and jurisdictional costs will be borne by the individual jurisdiction.

BC and NWT will provide capacity funding to support participation of the respective Indigenous members on the BMC and on the technical committee(s). Each respective government will work with Indigenous members to determine the appropriate type and level of support they can provide.

7. Periodic Review of the Terms of Reference
These terms of reference will be reviewed on a regular basis by the BMC to determine if amendments are needed. The BMC will approve amendments.
