

A map of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, Canada, showing the locations of several First Nations. The map is light blue with black outlines for land and water. Two brown rectangular boxes highlight specific areas: one on the northwest coast and one on the southern coast. The northwest box contains a yellow circle with a blue center, representing the Ka:'yu:'k't'h'/Che:k:les7eth' First Nation. The southern box contains four yellow circles with blue centers, representing the Ucluelet First Nation, Toquaht First Nation, Uchucklesaht Tribe, and Huu-ay-aht First Nation. The city of Campbell River is marked with a black dot, and Victoria is also marked with a black dot. The word 'VANCOUVER ISLAND' is written in large, grey, capital letters across the center of the island.
