

QUARTERLY ENVIRONMENTAL ENFORCEMENT SUMMARY

3rd Quarter 2015
(July 1 - September 30)

Protecting the Splendor of our Natural Places

Highlights

The Quarterly Environmental Enforcement Summary for Q3 2015 outlines 28 Orders, 66 Administrative Sanctions, 941 Tickets, and 19 Court Convictions for a combined total of over $236,000 in penalties.

Notable Highlights this Quarter:

The unusually hot and dry summer of 2015 led to increased enforcement under environmental statutes to protect British Columbia's treasured natural resources.

Water Stewardship officials performed targeted aerial inspections of a number of agricultural operations along the Nicomekl and Serpentine Rivers and tributaries in the Lower Mainland. As a result, 21 Water Act Orders were issued, requiring operators to remove water diversions and irrigation systems that had been installed without authorization. The rapid expansion of agricultural operations in the area has put unprecedented strain on the water courses, leading to historically low water levels – a situation exacerbated during drought events. The province is committed to working with the agricultural operators to find long-term solutions to their irrigation needs, but will continue to ensure compliance with the Water Act.

The Conservation Officer Service issued 221 tickets totalling almost $75,000 in fines under the Wildfire Act between July 1st and September 30th due to extreme fire hazard conditions and province-wide fire bans. The province has taken a tough stand on irresponsible behaviour that contributes to increased wildfire risks in an effort to protect infrastructure, natural resources and communities from wildfire damage. In the spring of 2016, government announced significant increases to ticket fines for violations under the Wildfire Act and Wildfire Regulation. The changes mean that British Columbia now has some of the highest wildfire-related violation ticket fines in Canada. For example, the fine for not complying with a fire restriction has tripled from $345 to $1,150 and failing to properly extinguish a burning substance, such as a cigarette, will now cost an offender $575.

Kim-Canh Dinh received a lifetime firearm prohibition and a ten year hunting prohibition, as well as the forfeiture of his firearms and $400 in fines after conviction in court on four counts under the Criminal Code of Canada and the Wildlife Act. Dinh was stopped in the Quesnel area and found to have been hunting out of season with no licence and in possession of dead wildlife and unauthorized firearms. The prohibitions are meant to ensure that this individual does not re-engage in illegal hunting activities.
