

SUMMARY: FILE REVIEW

Of the Death of a Youth in the Care of the Director in 2019

Circumstances of the Fatality

The review examined the case files of an Indigenous youth who died from an illness while in the continuing care of the Delegated Aboriginal Agency (DAA). The DAA was providing guardianship services to the youth at the time of death, and was involved in permanency planning and their transition from care.

Findings

The DAA worked collaboratively and consistently to support the youth during their medical issue, and engaged regularly with the care team to address any concerns as they arose.

Actions

The findings of the file review did not identify any areas that required actions.

The review was completed in October 2019.
