The list is alphabetical and provides the correct title, publisher, type of publication, and year of latest printing. The date and cost are current as of April 30, 2002, but an indication of “none” connotes no date or cost, but on occasion indicates none was available at the time the binder was printed. The location and phone columns detail where the greatest numbers of copies are available and whom to contact to place an order. A key to the various publishing organizations is listed below, while the full address of all the contacts can be found on the last page of this document.
