Subject: central Walbran and other west coast old growth

Greetings. I have visited the Walbran several times. I have also visited old growth forests in Ontario. There is no comparison! The old growth forests on the west coast are vital to life on the planet and in our commitment to halting climate change as a global community, we Canadian stewards must keep these forests intact! There is no doubt in my mind. Please respond to my message and explain exactly how this will be achieved.

Yours in earnest,
