

Factsheet: Health Regional Capital Projects

Since 2001, government has spent more than $9.1 billion on health care capital, and is planning to spend approximately $2.9 billion during the next three years.

Fraser Health

- $512 million for a new critical care tower, including a new emergency department, neonatal intensive care unit and additional inpatient beds at Surrey Memorial Hospital.
- $237 million for the Jim Pattison Outpatient Care and Surgery Centre.
- $475 million for the Abbotsford Regional Hospital and Cancer Centre.
- $83 million for Royal Columbian Hospital renovations and equipment.
- Redevelopment of Royal Columbian Hospital.

Interior Health

- $429 million for new patient care towers at Kelowna General and Vernon Jubilee hospitals, including new medical teaching space.
- $30 million to complete two unfinished floors in Vernon Jubilee Hospital's Polson Tower, accommodating 60 inpatient beds.
- $381 million for the Interior Heart and Surgical Centre in Kelowna.
- $80 million for a new clinical services building at Royal Inland Hospital – the first phase of redevelopment.
- $20 million for an intensive care unit and electrical upgrade at East Kootenay Regional Hospital in Cranbrook.
- $21 million for Shuswap Lake Hospital redevelopment and emergency department expansion.
- $325 million for a new patient care tower and renovations at Penticton Regional Hospital.

Island Health (VIHA)

- $606 million for two new hospitals in Campbell River and Comox Valley as part of the North Island Hospitals project.
- $349 million for new patient care tower at Victoria Royal Jubilee Hospital.
- $19 million for emergency department expansion at Victoria General Hospital.
- $116 million to renovate and expand Nanaimo Regional General Hospital, including new emergency department and renal centre.
- $31 million for the construction of Mount St. Mary Hospital multilevel care in Victoria.
- $17 million to construct the new Oceanside Health Centre in Parksville.

Factsheet: Health Regional Capital Projects

Northern Health

- $96 million to enhance and expand Prince George's University Hospital of Northern B.C., including the Northern Medical School program.
- $300 million to replace Fort St John Hospital & Peace Villa.
- $14 million to renovate and upgrade G.R. Baker Hospital in Quesnel.
- $10 million to renovate and upgrade Prince Rupert Regional Hospital.
- $9 million to renovate and upgrade Mills Memorial Hospital in Terrace.
- $55 million to redevelop Lakes District Hospital and Health Centre in Burns Lake.
- $50 million to replace the Queen Charlotte/Haida Gwaii hospital.

Provincial Health Services Authority

- $678 million for the redevelopment of BC Children's and BC Women's hospitals.
- $106 million for the Northern Cancer Control Strategy, including a new BC Cancer Centre for the North in Prince George.
- $19 million for a child, adolescent and women's mental health facility.
- $10 million for renovations and acquisition of two positron emission tomography (PET/CT) scanners at the Vancouver Cancer Centre.
- $15 million for radiopharmaceutical lab and cyclotron at the Vancouver Cancer Centre.

Vancouver Coastal Health

- Vancouver General Hospital expansions, including:
 - ▶ $123 million for Diamond Centre (academic ambulatory care), and
 - ▶ $156 million redevelopment of Vancouver General Hospital.
- $99 million for renovations and upgrades to St. Paul's Hospital.
- $62 million for the HOpe Centre, an acute mental health facility at Lions Gate Hospital.
- $82 million for the Joseph & Rosalie Segal Family Health Centre at Vancouver General Hospital.
- $44 million to renovate Sechelt Hospital.