

Patient Voices Network December Webinar/Conference Call

---

I want to thank the many volunteers who are so passionate about the Patient Voices Network and have been in touch with the ministry to continue on with this important work – expressing your thoughts, providing feedback and sharing your concerns.

Over the past week and a half, we heard many of your ideas on how we can move things forward and have been exploring these ideas, with the goal of supporting and stabilizing the Patient Voices Network. We are being thoughtful and cautious around moving too quickly until we have a better understanding of what the majority of our patient partner's see as the future of the network.

I have scheduled a phone call for Tuesday, Dec. 1st from 9:00 a.m. – 10:00 a.m. to provide you with more information on our ideas and receive your feedback. If you have any questions or concerns at any time, please email: patientsaspartners@gov.bc.ca.

I have heard concerns about the level of communication out to you. I understand that you are used to getting correspondence on a more regular basis, and we appreciate your continued patience and understanding as we work through the changes.
