

Software organizations must not release application changes into production until the Ministry provides approval to do so except in the case of an emergency release which is covered in volume 2 of the Conformance Standards.

Software organizations must complete this form and submit it to the Ministry of Health (HLTH.CISSupport@gov.bc.ca) for assessment prior to application releases, service upgrades or training changes. The Ministry will review the change details and inform you within 7 business days of any conformance testing required. Please allow a minimum of 6 weeks in your release planning for this assessment and potential conformance testing to be completed.
