Preparing an Application for Order Under the Family Maintenance Enforcement Act Form 35

Complete this form if you need an order under the Family Maintenance Enforcement Act about the enforcement of an order about child support or spousal support.

This form is usually used once enforcement actions have already been started and may be used to challenge enforcement actions taken outside the court by the BC Family Maintenance Agency. The form provides options depending on the circumstances of the case and the enforcement action taken.

You should contact the BC Family Maintenance Agency before preparing this form to see if they can help. You may be able to reach an agreement without going to court.

Visit their website at www.bcfma.ca or contact them by telephone at 1-800-663-3455.

Note: A challenge of an enforcement action does not mean that the support order will be changed. If you want your order changed, you must also file the Application About a Family Law Matter Form 3. If you are in an early resolution registry, you will start the process for changing your order about support by filing a Notice to Resolve a Family Law Matter Form 1.

Filling out the form and preparing to file it

Make sure you follow the instructions in the form and include all the required information.

If you complete the form by hand, be sure it's readable.

How do I prepare the form for filing?

- collect the completed application and copy of any applicable order as set out in the form
- print or make copies of all documents: one set for you, one set for the court, and one set for each other party
- staple or secure each package of documents together

Signing the affidavit with a commissioner for taking affidavits

If you are filing an affidavit in support of this application, you must meet with a commissioner for taking affidavits and sign the document in front of them.

The affidavit in support is used to present evidence to the court. It contains facts that you must swear under oath or affirm to be true.

Lawyers and notaries are all commissioners for taking affidavits. The court registry also has staff who are commissioners for taking affidavits who can help swear or affirm your affidavit for free.

Filing the application at the registry

You must file at the Provincial Court Registry where the existing Provincial Court case with the same parties is filed.

File the form:

- electronically using the FLA Online Forms Service
- in person at the court registry
- by mail
- by email, as referenced in Notice to the Profession and Public NP 28 Current Court Operations, or
- by fax filing using the Fax Filing Cover Page Form 52

There are no fees for filing Provincial Court family documents.

Be sure to bring all copies of the documents to the registry if you are filing in person.

The registry clerk will review your package to make sure it's complete before filing it. They'll give you a copy for your records.

Serving the application

Serve a copy of the application on each other party.

If the creditor is enrolled with the BC Family Maintenance Agency, you must also serve the Director of Maintenance Enforcement.

If you are the debtor's employer, and you are applying to terminate a notice of attachment, you must serve both parties and the Director of Maintenance Enforcement.

They must all be served with at least 7 days' notice of the date and time of the appearance unless the court has ordered something different. This means there must be at least 7 days between the date the application is served and the date and time of the court appearance.

The application can be served by ordinary service to the address of service for each party. Their address for service is the address they have provided to the court.

A party who does not have an address for service must be served by personal service. An adult (at least 19 years old) who is not a party must hand-deliver the documents to the party to be served.

The Director of Maintenance Enforcement can be served by mailing the documents to the postal address provided by the Director. Contact the BC Family Maintenance Agency to find out how best to serve them.

See the guidebook if you need more information about serving the application.

You may need to prove service of the documents took place. The person serving the documents must complete a Certificate of Service Form 7 to prove service. You must attach a copy of the documents to the Certificate of Service. Remember to make a copy before the documents are served.

Attending the court appearance

A judge can make decisions based only on the information presented by the parties. In addition to your application, you can provide evidence including any additional affidavit(s) and spoken evidence provided in court.

If you can't attend court using the method of attendance set out in your application, you can request the court's permission to attend using a different method of attendance by filing an Application for Case Management Order without Notice or Attendance Form 11.

Can I get help in another language?

Free spoken-language interpreters for people who do not speak English and visual language interpreters for people who are deaf or hard of hearing are available for all family law court appearances.

It's important to let court registry staff know as soon as possible that you need an interpreter. If they can't arrange an interpreter in time, the judge may have to re-schedule your case.

For most things that go on outside the courtroom, you'll need to find your own interpreter. Some people ask a friend or family member. Others hire a professional interpreter.
