

The Emergency Operations Centre Operational Guidelines 2nd Edition is a set of standards for staff of an Emergency Operations Centre (EOC) in the event of a major emergency or disaster. This document is dated but continues to provide a solid framework for community EOCs. For forms and templates, please contact your EMCR Regional Office to ensure current practices and processes are used.

1 - Overview

Introduction

These Guidelines are intended for use by all members of an Emergency Operations Centre (EOC) in the event of a major emergency. They follow the requirements of the British Columbia Emergency Response Management System (BCERMS), Site Support Coordination level standard, and are also intended to provide guidance during the recovery phase.

These Operational Guidelines are a component in the series of BCERMS publications and materials. Reference should be made to the BCERMS Standard and Overview documents as well as any appropriate hazard plans.

Purpose and Scope

This document guides the management, organization, responsibilities, and coordination necessary to provide for effective response and recovery from major emergencies or disasters at the Site Support (EOC) Level. This document does not address emergencies that are normally handled at the scene by the appropriate first responding agencies. The Guidelines address incidents or events that may cause damage of sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant activation of a Department Operations Centre (DOC) and / or an Emergency Operations Centre (EOC).

Emergency Response Organization

These Operational Guidelines utilize the BCERMS Site Support Level Standard as its organizational structure (Figures 1-2 and 1-3). An Incident Commander is always present to oversee site activities, and an Emergency Operations Centre (if required) is activated to oversee and coordinate all non-site activities. If the emergency is very large, two or more EOCs are established, or an emergency occurs in an unorganized area, then a Provincial Regional Emergency Operations Centre (PREOC) may be established to provide support and coordination. If a PREOC is established, then the Provincial Emergency Coordination Centre (PECC) in Victoria is also established.

Incident Command Post

The Incident Command Post (ICP) is the location from which the Incident Commander directs the site response to the emergency. Incident objectives, strategies and tactics for the site are formulated and directed from the ICP.

Department Operations Centres

In some emergencies, agencies that require unique local support for their operations may establish a Department Operations Centre (DOC). A DOC is primarily concerned with supporting the operations of the agency and ensuring regular activities continue. The DOC will focus on such issues as staff scheduling, obtaining, coordinating and directing highly specialized resources for the agency to fulfill its mission. The Agency Executive may be located at the DOC. The EOC's relationship to a DOC is usually one of policy direction and support or assistance in facilitating resources or actions at the request of the DOC Director. A DOC, if established by a provincial agency, must utilize the BCERMS standards; however, it is recognized that many of the functional positions outlined in these guidelines will not be applicable. DOCs established by provincial agencies may call for support from a PREOC or their Ministry's Regional Emergency Operations Centre, if activated.

Emergency Operations Centres

Emergency Operations Centres (EOC) are normally activated at the request of the Incident Commander or senior municipal officials to provide overall jurisdictional direction and control, coordination and resource support. It is recommended that an EOC utilize the BCERMS principles for organizing and managing EOC operations and activities. By using BCERMS five functional elements an EOC will operate more effectively and consistently with its regional and provincial counterparts.

An EOC normally turns to the PREOC for support when all of their resources are exhausted or they require coordination that is outside of their jurisdiction.

Provincial Regional Emergency Operations Centre

The PREOC coordinates, facilitates and manages information, policy direction, and provincial resources to support local authorities and provincial agencies responding to an emergency or disaster. In circumstances where incidents cross local authority boundaries, or where local authorities are not organized to fulfill their role, the PREOC will define an operational area in order to manage and coordinate the overall provincial response within that area. This level, in conjunction with the provincial central coordination level, integrates overall provincial support to the incident.

The operation of one or more Provincial Regional Emergency Operations Centres (PREOCs) is initiated in order to support the response by local authorities or agencies. PREOCs do not normally communicate directly with Incident Commanders at the site, but communicate with the Site Support Level (EOCs) and Provincial DOCs to help coordinate resources and support operations. The organization and management of the PREOCs follows the BCERMS standards.

Provincial Emergency Coordination Centre

The PECC provides inter-region policy direction and coordination for emergencies involving more than one PREOC. It acts as an overall provincial coordination centre in the event of simultaneous multi-region disasters, such as earthquakes, floods or interface fires.

It provides ongoing inter-agency coordination with Ministry Operations Centres in order to ensure adequate province-wide mobilization and allocation of provincial assets.

The PECC implements the Provincial Emergency Public Information Plan. It serves as the coordination and communications link with the federal disaster support structure, working with both the Department of National Defence and Emergency Preparedness Canada. In the event of a sudden large-scale emergency such as an earthquake, the PECC coordinates all provincial response activities until regional PREOCs can be activated. The PECC staffing is initially provided by the Provincial Emergency Program (PEP) Emergency Coordination Centre, augmented by PEP Headquarters staff.

EOC Management Considerations

Policy Group

When an EOC is activated, local authorities may establish a policy group comprised of the head of the local authority (e.g., Mayor) and other elected officials and senior executive officers in order to provide the EOC Director with policy direction. An example of this level of policy direction is the declaration of a “state of local emergency.”

Five EOC Functions

Function	Role
▪ Management	Responsible for overall emergency policy and coordination; public information and media relations; agency liaison; and proper risk management procedures, through the joint efforts of local government agencies and private organizations.
▪ Operations	Responsible for coordinating all jurisdictional operations in support of the emergency response through implementation of the jurisdiction’s Action Plan.
▪ Planning	Responsible for collecting, evaluating, and disseminating information; developing the jurisdiction’s Action Plan and Situational Status in coordination with other functions; maintaining all EOC documentation.
▪ Logistics	Responsible for providing facilities, services, personnel, equipment and materials.
▪ Finance / Administration	Responsible for financial activities and other administrative aspects.

Span of Control

When span of control is exceeded in any of the five functions, EOC organizational elements should be activated. These include Branches, Groups and Units.

Titles

The supervisor of each organizational element in the EOC has the following title:

- EOC Director
- Section Chief
- Branch Coordinator
- Group Coordinator
- Unit Coordinator.

General Staff

The Operations, Planning, Logistics and Finance / Administration Section Chiefs constitute the EOC General Staff. The General Staff are responsible for:

- Overseeing the internal functioning of their section, and
- Interacting with each other, the EOC Director, and other entities within the EOC to ensure the effective functioning of the EOC organization.

Management Staff

The EOC Director may appoint persons to fill the EOC Management staff positions of Information Officer, Liaison Officer and Risk Management Officer.

Management Team

The EOC Director, General Staff and Management Staff function as the EOC Management Team.

EOC Structure

The EOC structure for a fully developed response organization is shown in Figure 1-2. It is important to remember that not every EOC function and / or element will be filled in every emergency or disaster.

The situation at hand will dictate the functions and elements to be activated. As a minimum, an active EOC requires only an EOC Director. Other functions are staffed as needed.

The Local Emergency Program Coordinator and / or EOC Director are responsible for ensuring that the EOC is ready for use on short notice by establishing a regular maintenance and testing schedule.

The EOC contains information display materials, telecommunications and any additional supporting equipment, documents, and supplies required to ensure efficient operations and effective emergency management on a 24-hour per day basis. In addition, power generation capabilities and other special life support systems may be required to allow for continuous operations apart from normal public utilities and services.

2 - EOC Activities

EOC Activation and Termination

Authority to Activate the EOC:

An EOC may be activated by any one of the following:

- An Incident Commander within the EOC's jurisdiction
- Persons named in the jurisdictions' emergency plan and / or EOC plan such as: EOC Director, Emergency Program Coordinator, City Manager / Administrator, Fire Chief, Police Chief, Mayor or Elected Officials, etc.
- Director of the Provincial Emergency Program following a Provincial Declaration of State of Emergency.

Declaration Not Required

Note: The EOC may be activated with or without a Declaration of a State of Local Emergency or Provincial Emergency; however, it must be activated once a Declaration has been made.

Activation Criteria

Suggested criteria for activating the EOC includes:

- Significant number of people at risk
- Response coordination required because of
 - Large or widespread event
 - Multiple emergency sites
 - Several responding agencies
- Resource coordination required because of
 - Limited local resources, and
 - Significant need for outside resources
- Uncertain conditions
 - Possibility of escalation of the event
 - Unknown extent of damage
- Potential threat to people, property and / or environment
- Declaration of a State of Local Emergency is made

Termination

The Emergency Operations Centre Director will terminate the EOC activity for the current incident and notify all participants. The Director must consider the requirements of termination virtually from the outset. The Demobilization Unit Coordinator supervises and administers the termination process, staying behind if necessary after the EOC is closed.

Suggested criteria for terminating EOC operations includes:

- Individual EOC functions are no longer required
- A State of Local Emergency is lifted
- Coordination of response activities and / or resources is no longer required
- Event has been contained and emergency personnel have returned to regular duties.

EOC Activation Levels

These guidelines recognize three levels of potential activation. The term “Event” is used to describe an occurrence based on the jurisdictions pre-identified hazards. An “incident” describes one or more occurrences that happen as the direct result of an event.

Examples include:

- An earthquake is an event; any resulting fires or explosions are incidents within the earthquake event.
- A flood is an event; any resulting dike breaches or water contamination are incidents within the flood event.

The level of EOC activation is determined by the magnitude, scope and stage of the event. Only those EOC functions and positions that are required to meet current response objectives need to be activated. Non-activated functions and positions will be the responsibility of the next highest level in the EOC organization. Each EOC function must have a person in charge.

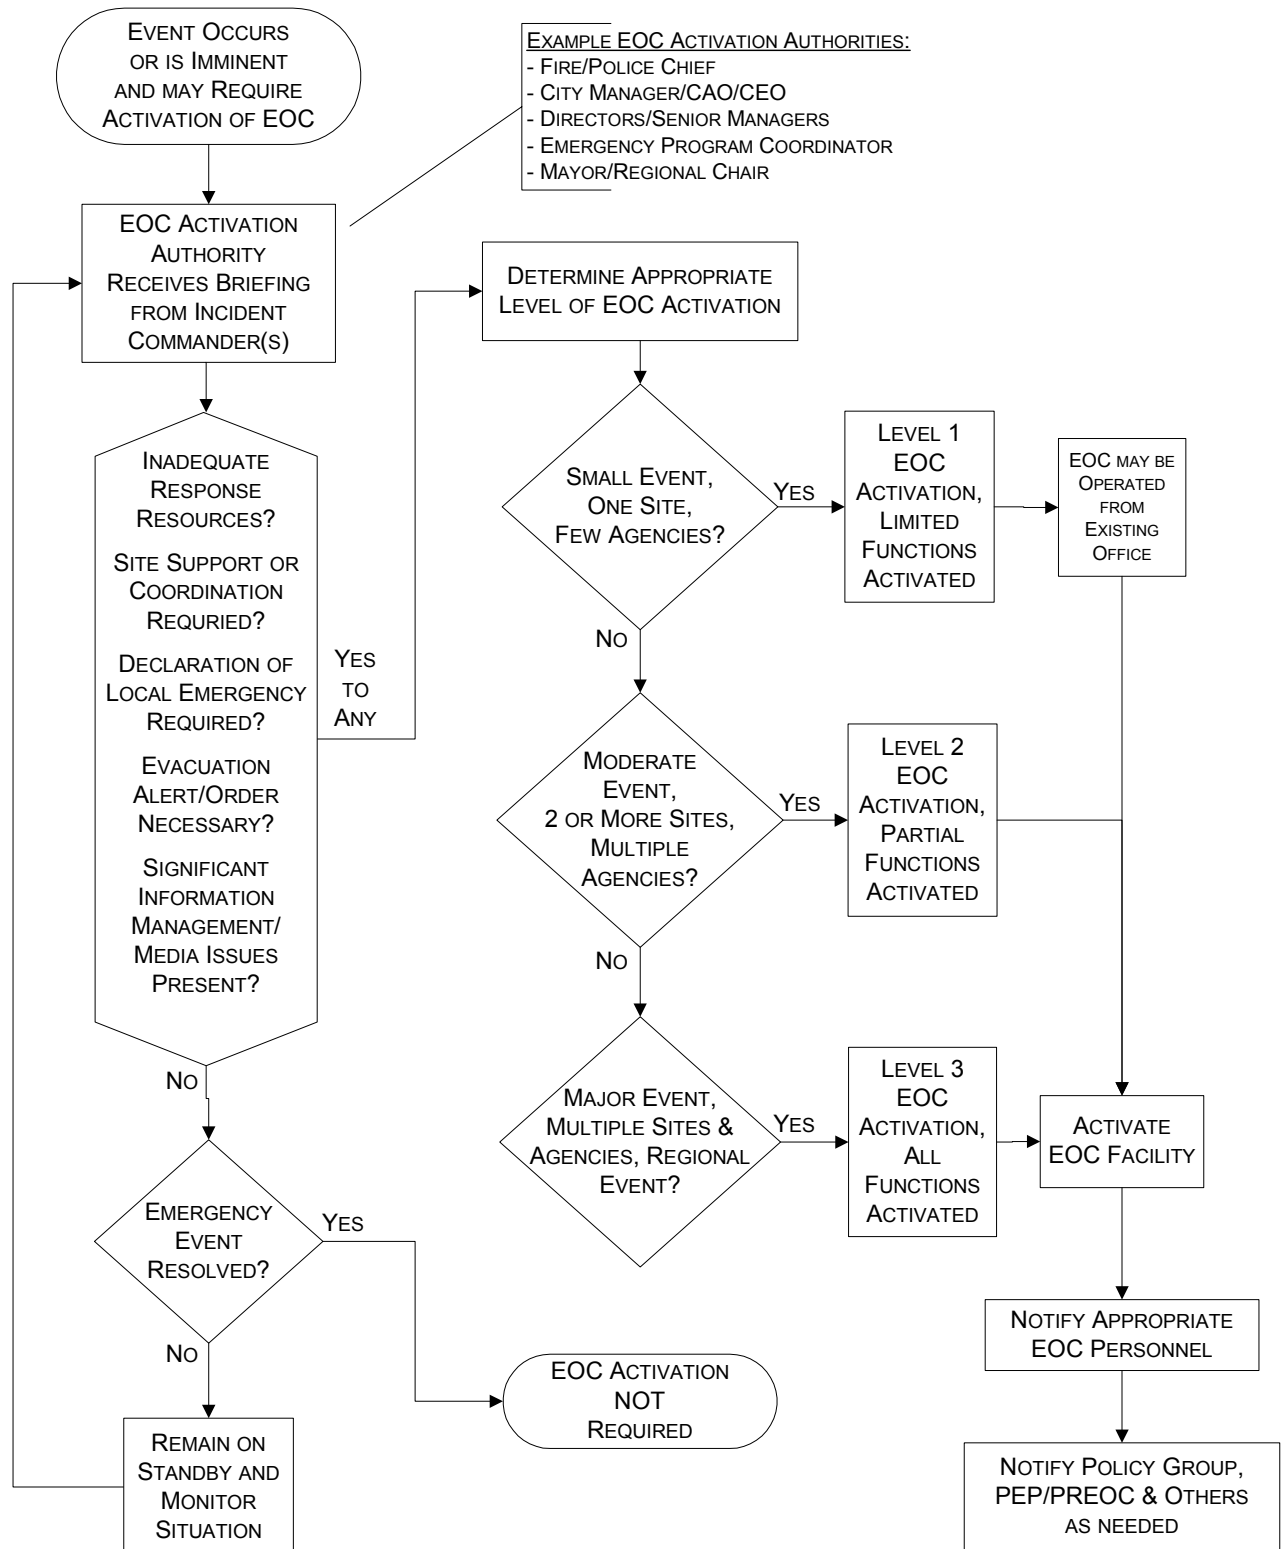

The EOC Organizational structure should be flexible enough to expand and contract as needed. EOC staff may be required to take on more than one position (role), as determined by the nature of the emergency event, availability of resources and / or as assigned by a Supervisor.

EOC ACTIVATION FLOWCHART

Notification Procedures

It is anticipated that emergency services dispatch centres will receive the initial reports of major emergencies or disasters. These dispatch centres should follow established procedures detailed in the jurisdiction's emergency plans and / or EOC plan for contacting appropriate EOC personnel.

Call Out

Call out of EOC staff can be coordinated through the emergency service dispatch centres and / or through a designated call-out system.

When requested by any of the people authorized to activate the EOC, the dispatch centre, or designee will contact the required EOC team members and advise them that they are required to report to the EOC facility. Back-up and / or alternate personnel need to be identified for every EOC position to ensure availability and to allow for shift changes. Dispatch centre staff should provide the following information when calling out EOC personnel:

- Brief description of event
- Identity of who authorized the EOC activation
- Where and to whom to report
- Applicable transportation information (known road closures and / or use of specified routes to take)
- Reminder to bring any necessary supplies and reference materials they may require
- Inquiry as to estimated time of arrival to the EOC.

EOC Staffing

Staffing Requirements

The EOC must be able to function on a 24 / 7 basis from activation until de-mobilization as required to support the emergency response. The EOC Director will determine appropriate staffing for each activation level based upon an assessment of the current and projected situation. While the immediate solution may be to establish several complete shifts for the duration of operations, there are seldom the resources or facilities to sustain this approach.

EOC Management Team positions should be filled as a priority by designated qualified individuals from the jurisdiction. Sub-positions within the EOC organization may be filled by qualified personnel independent of rank or agency affiliations. Initially, all positions may be staffed by the first available individual most qualified in the function to be performed.

Based on the previously described EOC Activation Levels, plans should include at least two-three complete shifts of personnel for an initial period of time, after which reduced-strength options can be considered for implementation on a section-by-section basis.

Transfer of Responsibilities (Shift Changes)

When a staff member transfers their responsibilities to another, a simple but formal transfer briefing will be required. Shifts, therefore, should be no longer than 8 – 12 hours and should overlap by 15 minutes or so to prevent a staff position from being inadequately relieved. A transfer briefing should summarize the activities of the past shift, identify, “open” incidents or activities, and if time permits, be accompanied by a short written summary of the same information for later use during the operation or at a post-operation debriefing.

Staffing Considerations

Staff Rest: Time must be allowed for rest, meals, etc. The matter cannot be left to sort itself out.

Labour Relations: Rules and regulations regarding safety and overtime, etc. are not necessarily suspended on account of the emergency.

Briefings, Conferences: Activities at the EOC that require all staff members to attend, other than during their shift, should be infrequent. They interrupt necessary rest time and can preclude such necessary events as site visits and media interviews.

Personnel and Facility Identification

Common Identification

In conjunction with the application of common terminology within BCERMS, it is essential to have a common identification system for facilities and personnel filling positions. The following identifying colours for specific functions should be used by all agencies that work within an EOC.

- Green ➤ Director and Deputy Director
- Red ➤ Management Staff
- Orange ➤ Operations
- Blue ➤ Planning
- Yellow ➤ Logistics
- Grey ➤ Finance

Identification may take the form of a vest or armband. These identifiers do not preclude any personnel from wearing their agency's insignia or uniform.

Signs identifying the location of each EOC Function, Branch and Unit should also be posted for visual ease.

EOC Facility & Set-Up

Facility

The EOC facility should be located away from the jurisdiction's vulnerable or high-risk areas. The EOC can be a stand alone or dual-purpose facility. In the event the emergency requires moving the EOC a pre-determined alternate site should be planned for.

The size of the EOC will depend on the number of staff members required. The number of staff members required is dependent on the type and scope of anticipated emergency events the jurisdiction could encounter. For example, in smaller jurisdictions 8-12 people is all that may be required to staff the EOC, however, in larger more urban centres a staff composition of 35 - 50 may be required.

The layout and equipment for the EOC should be carefully planned and exercised well in advance of potential activation. A facility that can offer a variety of rooms, large open spaces, facilitate the technological needs, and provide the necessary life support systems is ideal.

Set-Up

In a full EOC, activation space may be required for the following areas of responsibility:

- All EOC functions (Management, Operations, Planning, Logistics and Finance / Admin)
- Policy group
- Communications centre
- Break-out / meeting rooms
- Media relations
- Public information centre (Toll Free Call Centre)
- Rest and eating areas.

A predetermined floorplan should be included in the jurisdiction's EOC plan.

The EOC should be adequately equipped with furniture, primary and secondary communications equipment, information displays, office equipment, stationery, and required life support systems (e.g., rest areas, washrooms, kitchen, etc.). It is also recommended to store copies of maps and relevant reference materials in the EOC facility for quick access.

Telecommunications

Terminology

Among all BCERMS levels, there must be a dedicated effort to ensure that telecommunications systems, planning and information flow are being accomplished in an effective manner.

Standard protocols and terminology will be used at all levels. Plain English for all telecommunications will be used to reduce the confusion that can be created when radio codes are used. Standard terminology shall be established and used to transmit information, including strategic operations, situation reports, logistics, tactical operations and emergency notifications of imminent safety concerns.

For the EOC, telecommunications methods should consider the following priorities:

- Telephone (land line)
- E-mail
- Fax
- Two-way radio (amateur, commercial)
- Radio telephone (cellular, satellite)
- Video-conferencing.

The EOC communications systems should provide reserve capacity for unusually complex situations where effective communications could become critical. An integrated communications plan should be developed as part of each Action Plan.

Communications Centre

An EOC Communications Centre should be established by the Communications Unit to provide all modes of telecommunications services. This Centre, while established and operated by the Communication Unit in Logistics, is often physically located near Operations and receives operational direction from the Operations Section Chief.

Communications Forms

Radio Messages

EOC message forms should be used for all radio communications. These forms must be clearly filled out by the originator in the areas provided, and then subsequently by the radio operator.

In drafting messages to be transmitted by an operator, be CLEAR and CONCISE. Once the message form leaves the originator's desk, consider it transmitted "as is." The operator will not be in a position to understand what you are trying to say, and will simply read what you printed to the destination addressee.

Internal EOC Messages

As mentioned before, a standard three-part "round-trip" memorandum form should be used for all internal written communications. These communications must be clearly marked with an originator's message number, originating date and time, and identify the originator's name and functional position. Essentially, the memorandum is handled the same as a radio message, except that the memorandum itself should be handed to the destination addressee.

In replying to an internal memorandum (on the same form, as designed), the same information is required.

Message Numbering

Message numbers provide an identification and reference, consisting of three-letter originator's code followed by three sequential digits starting with 001. The numbers continue until 999 is reached, and then the sequence is re-started at 001. If an originator should exceed 999 messages in a single day, numbers should continue into four digits (1000, 1001, etc.) rather than restart at 001. Prefix codes for all EOC staff positions are recommended, such as:

Management:

Originator	Prefix
• Director	DIR
• Liaison Officer	LIA
• Information Officer	PIO
• Risk Management Officer	RSK

Operations Section:

Originator	Prefix
• Operations Staff	OPS
• Air Operations Section	AIR
• Special Operations Branch	SOB

Planning Section:

Originator	Prefix
• Planning Staff	PLN

Logistics Section:

Originator	Prefix
• Logistics Staff	LOG

Finance / Administration Section:

Originator	Prefix
• Finance / Admin Staff	FIN

Branches and Units within each Section may also consider establishing a 3 digit Originators Prefix to help with quick identification and record keeping.

Message Precedence

An extensive amount of radio communications and messages will be handled in the EOC. In order to quickly identify the significance of a particular message it is important for the originator to apply a level of precedence appropriate for the circumstances. Similar to resource and information requests, the following system of precedence levels should be applied:

- Emergency ➤ Any message having life and death urgency
- Priority ➤ Important message / request with a specific time limit
- Routine ➤ Regular message traffic

Communications Plan

These guidelines and procedures are written within the context of the British Columbia Emergency Communication Plan. That permanent document generally discusses nets, equipment, permanently assigned frequencies, and task assignment of personnel from ministries and agencies. Copies of the BC Communication Plan should be kept in the EOC.

The EOC's critical telecommunication requirements are (at a minimum) to:

- Communicate with each activated Incident Command Post or DOC; and
- Communicate with PEP, PREOC, other EOCs, as required.

Provincial and Federal agencies attending the EOC should provide their own telecommunications link if they need it.

Operational Instructions

The Emergency Communications Plan will normally need to be amplified by the development of a Communications Operational Instruction (COI). This document will contain information specific to the emergency operation and the communications resources available to the specific EOC. The various components are utilized as required, and may need to be updated periodically. COIs are issued by the EOC Information Technology Branch Coordinator.

Information, which might be incorporated in a COI, includes:

- Net diagram(s)
- Frequency assignment (permanent and temporary frequencies)
- Telephone directory
- Control arrangements.

Telephone

The telephone, both terrestrial and wireless can become a hindrance to an effective EOC if certain restrictions are not imposed from the outset. Where at all possible, all incoming operational calls should be routed through an exchange established by the Communications Unit. The use of wireless cellular and satellite phones must be monitored to avoid loss of critical emergency information and avoid “freelancing”.

EOC Telephone Directory

Telephone numbers for the EOC Staff, as well as other important external numbers, should be published in an EOC Telephone Directory by the Information Technology Branch Coordinator as soon as possible after activation. The directory should receive limited circulation to those involved in the EOC and response operations, but not to the media or the public.

Toll-Free Public Information Service

Another important consideration is to assign a toll-free telephone number as a Public Information Service, and operate that number from the Public Information area. Several phones and operators can be assigned to the hotline if necessary. The Information Officer should regularly brief the operators so that they can answer the majority of public inquiries without interrupting busy EOC staff. If a toll-free number cannot be established collect calls should be accepted.

Other than the Toll-Free Public Information Service, no EOC telephone numbers should be made known to the public.

Satellite

An EOC may establish satellite communication capability utilizing MSAT, Iridium, Globalstar or other service provider. Satellite communications provides the capability to rapidly transfer a wide variety of voice as well as data information between the EOC, PREOC, and other agencies. The intent of satellite link should be to provide disaster-resistant communications between levels of BCERMS.

Response Goals

The EOC, as with all other BCERMS levels, supports a prescribed set of response goals set out in priority as follows:

1. Provide for the safety and health of all responders
2. Save lives
3. Reduce suffering
4. Protect public health
5. Protect government infrastructure
6. Protect property
7. Protect the environment
8. Reduce economic and social losses.

Action Plans from all BCERMS levels will take these goals into consideration.

Management by Objectives

The management by objectives means that the EOC along with the other BCERMS levels establishes objectives to be achieved for a given time frame, known as an “operational period.” These objectives always relate to the response goals stated earlier. An objective is an aim or end of an action to be performed. It is commonly stated as “what” must be done.

Each objective may have one or more options or strategies for achieving the objective. Strategies are commonly stated as “how” actions should be performed. The EOC concentrates on establishing priorities that the objectives may be based on.

Operational Periods

An operational period is the length of time set by EOC management to achieve a given set of objectives. The operational period may vary in length and will be determined largely by the dynamics of the emergency event. Commonly an operational period is between 8-12 hours. It should not exceed 24 hours.

Action Plans

EOC Action Plans address the policies and priorities that support the Incident Commander at the site and are an essential and required element in achieving objectives.

Preparing EOC Action Plans is the responsibility of the Planning Section.

Planning Process

There are five primary steps in sequential order to ensure a comprehensive Action Planning process:

1. Understand the current situation
2. Establish priorities, objectives and strategies
3. Develop Action Plan for next operational period
4. Evaluate the Plan and obtain appropriate approval
5. Anticipate / predict what will happen following implementation of the Action Plan.

Plan Components

The EOC Action Plan may consist of some or all of the following:

- EOC Policies and priorities
- Objectives
- Task assignment lists
- Attached references (e.g., Communications Plan, Traffic Plan, Organization Chart, Map, etc.)
- Distribution list.

Plan Approval

The EOC Director is responsible for approving the Action Plan for each operational period. This is done in consultation with the EOC Management Team to ensure accuracy of the current situation and timelines for actions to be taken.

Plan Implementation and Evaluation

Once approved the EOC Management Team will assume responsibility for implementing their respective portions of the Action Plan. This includes monitoring and evaluating progress of the plan.

Briefings

Briefings provide EOC staff, external agencies and the media with vital information they need to function effectively and efficiently. Information shared at a briefing can help clarify and validate situations so that appropriate decisions can be made.

EOC briefings can be held to,

- Orient personnel to the EOC facility and equipment,
- Review policies and operational guidelines,
- Establish priorities and objectives,
- Keep staff informed as to the current situation, and
- Approve action plans and SITREPS.

EOC Management Team briefings should be facilitated by the Planning Section Chief and / or EOC Director at pre-determined times. The Planning Chief should prepare a briefing agenda approved by the EOC Director, which outlines the briefing format and objectives for the meeting. The agenda is distributed to Management Team members in advance of the meeting.

In the initial stages of EOC activation EOC Management Team briefings should be held every two hours or as required to support response operations. The frequency of briefings may reduce as times goes on and extended operations continue.

EOC Management Team members should come prepared to the briefings by preparing in advance information on:

- Current situation (relevant to their function / role)
- Unmet needs
- Future activities
- Public information needs.

Minutes from the briefings should be documented, approved by the EOC Director and distributed to the Management Team. Section Chiefs are then responsible for briefing their staff on the outcome of the Management Team meetings

Information Flow / Directions

Types of Information

Information coming into and out of the EOC must be managed carefully. BCERMS identifies four types of information transactions common to emergencies:

- Management direction
- Situation reporting
- Resource requests
- General information.

Management Direction

Management directions must follow the lines of authority established for the response organization. These lines are represented in the function and organization charts for each BCERMS level. Among the different levels, command decisions and priorities are communicated between the Incident Commander and Directors of each level.

Situation Reporting

SITREPs

Situation reports are a function most commonly managed through the Planning Section. All personnel must forward incident situation information to the Situation Unit in the Planning Section. Collecting situation data may involve a number of sources, including the Operations Section, Logistics Section, and the Information Officer at a given level. Situation information is also received from lower and higher levels. Following analysis, the Planning function supports operational decisions and summarizes situation information for the EOC Directors approval. Once approved the SITREP is distributed by the Information Officer to EOC Section Chiefs and other levels in the BCERMS structure.

The EOC should compile, within a reasonable time from receipt of the periodic Incident Commander situation reports, an amalgamated EOC SITREP for any PREOC that may be established in the operational area.

Section Chiefs are responsible for providing the EOC Director with periodic verbal or written updates to the SITREP. The EOC Director should then take steps to brief all the staff on the collective situation. A short conference may be most appropriate.

Resource Requests

Resource requests normally flow from site responders to the Operations Section Chief at the Site Level, who then shares the request through Site's Planning Section to the Logistics Section for the resolution. If the Site's Logistics Section cannot fill the need with available resources, through purchasing, or through agency agreements, the Logistics and Operation Section Chiefs forward requests to the Incident Commander for approval. Once approved, the Incident Commander may pass the request to the Operations Section of the EOC (if activated) or directly to the EOC Director.

General Information

General information may be exchanged among members of a response organization at any given level. BCERMS encourages lateral information flow between functions. In addition, a representative of a function at one level may wish to exchange information with a similar function one level above or below them. Verifying general information is an important step before taking action.

EOCs should consider using standard three-part "round-trip" memorandum forms for all internal communications. These communications must be clearly marked with an originator's message number, originating date and time, and identify the originator's name and functional position. The same information is required when replying to an internal memorandum.

Documentation

All EOC activities require some form of documentation and record keeping. There should be prepared forms for each EOC function responsibility. Which forms requiring completion are dependent on the agencies involved and the scope and impact of the emergency event.

It is extremely important to accurately document actions taken during emergencies. There must be a documented record of all policy and EOC decisions and direction. Resource requests must also be logged and tracked to ensure the response provided is recorded. BCERMS requires all positions to keep a personal and functional position log during events. This will assist in tracking and monitoring the effectiveness of the response and of EOC Action Plans. Documentation is also important for tracking expenditures for cost accounting and for requesting provincial and federal assistance.

EOC Forms

Sample forms for each EOC function / position are contained in Section 4 of these guidelines.

General considerations when completing EOC paperwork should include:

- Print or type all entries
- Enter dates by year / month / day format
- Use 24 - hour clock time
- Enter name, position, date and time on all forms
- Fill in all blanks; use N/A (not applicable) as appropriate.

Copies of all important documents (including individual position logs) should be forwarded to Planning's - Documentation Unit for safekeeping.

After Action Reports

The EOC Director is responsible for ensuring that an after-action evaluation report is prepared on all aspects of emergencies under their control. In addition the Director is responsible for ensuring that all document records are complete and available in the event of a public inquiry.

Resource Management

At all BCERMS levels, there will be some functional activity related to managing resources. This will vary from level to level in terms of directing, coordinating, or inventorying resources. Resources managed by the EOC will usually be in a transit mode, to an affected area, or at a marshalling area awaiting disbursement to a staging area closer to the scene of the incident(s). Resources assigned to an emergency event at any level may be managed in three ways:

- Single resource
- Task force
- Strike team.

Resource Requests

When jurisdictional resources are exhausted and / or unable to fill the need, each responding agency will first go through their DOC (if one is activated) to try and obtain the necessary resource. If the DOC is unsuccessful in filling the resource request it is then forwarded to the Incident Commander. The Incident Commander will assess and prioritize the request before forwarding it to the EOC Operations Section.

If the EOC Operations Section is unable to coordinate filling the resource request, with the EOC Logistics and Planning Sections, then the request is forwarded to the EOC Director. The EOC Director then authorizes forwarding the request to PEP or PREOC (if activated). Similarly if the PREOC is unable to fill the resource request the PREOC Director can forward the request to the PECC.

See Figure 2 - 1 for summary of Resource Management at all BCERMS levels.

Resource Priority Levels

All resource requests should be assigned one of the following priority levels:

- Emergency ➤ Having life and death urgency
- Priority ➤ Important to support operations within a specific time limit
- Routine ➤ Supports regular operations.

Resource Status

Resources will always be in one of three status conditions:

- Available
- Assigned
- Out of service.

Critical Resource Designation

When a specific resource is in demand by multiple agencies and / or jurisdictions and there are a limited number of the resource available it can be designated as a “Critical Resource” by the EOC Director, PREOC Director or PECC Director. All requests for “Critical Resources” must be approved by the EOC Director, PREOC Director or PECC Director.

Resource Tracking

Resource requests frequently require coordination amongst a variety of functions and agency representatives. Multiple requests will be received by the EOC by a wide variety of means and without tracking there is a danger that a critical request could be lost.

Requests must be vetted, prioritized, assigned, tracked and signed off by EOC Management when closed. The EOC Management Team must be able to determine the current status of all resource requests, the sections assigned responsibility for action, and the details of any action taken or planned. This information is critical during the briefing and shift change process.

It is the responsibility of Planning’s Resource Unit to track resources.

Decision - Making

All decisions made in the EOC require accurate and timely information as well as input and consultation from relevant staff members and agencies.

The EOC Director is ultimately responsible for making key decisions on behalf of the EOC. He / she does this in consultation with the EOC Management Team, Incident Commander(s) and the EOC Policy Group.

EOC Director Decisions

Issues that require a decision or approval from the EOC Director include:

- Establishing EOC priorities and objectives
- EOC Action Plans
- Extraordinary resources requests
- Press releases
- Media interviews
- Public information bulletins
- Situation reports
- Evacuation orders
- Preparation of Declaration of State of Local Emergency
- Request mutual aid
- Request for Provincial / Federal Support.

The EOC Director must carefully assess, evaluate, and prioritize each issue requiring a decision / approval. Once the decision is made it must be assigned to applicable functions / positions for implementation and communicated to all appropriate EOC staff and BCERMS levels.

Briefings are commonly used to facilitate the decision-making process.

Relief and Recovery

Near the end of emergency response operations an EOC will make the transition to relief and recovery operations. This may require re-evaluating which PREOC functions are required and which agencies and personnel are best suited to staff the functions, as appropriate. Planning's – Recovery Unit is responsible for overseeing the transition from response to recovery.

Relief

Relief provides for immediate and short-term assistance to people impacted by the emergency event and includes the repair and restoration of essential lifeline systems.

Initial, short-term relief efforts include activities such as:

- Provision of interim housing
- Repair and restoration of lifeline utilities
- Emergency repair of vital transportation systems
- Provision of critical incident stress counselling for response staff and community
- Building safety inspections
- Debris removal and clean-up
- Restoration of social and health services
- Restoration of normal civic services
- Coordination of local, provincial and federal damage assessments
- Re-occupancy of structures
- Economic recovery, including sites for business resumption
- Building demolition
- Formation of recovery taskforce.

Recovery

Experience has shown that planning recovery operations during the response will speed recovery time and reduce losses. The Recovery Unit leads the jurisdiction's recovery efforts and should commence activities as early as possible.

Long-term recovery efforts, four weeks to several years following an event, should include:

- Debris management
- Hazard mitigation
- Reconstruction of permanent housing
- Reconstruction of commercial facilities
- Reconstruction of transportation systems
- Implementation of long-term economic recovery.

Risk Management

Principles

Risk management is the process of planning and implementing decisions that will minimize the adverse effects of accidental and business losses to an organization.

The EOC shall incorporate the principles of risk management in the development of all Action Plans and:

- Include a policy statement supporting risk management
- Specify risk management procedures.

The EOC Director shall ensure that good risk management practices are applied in all incidents throughout the response organization, and that every function contributes to the management of risks. The Director may activate the management staff position of Risk Management Officer to assist in this function.

The scope of risk management effort extends to all losses, all people impacted by the disaster, and all entities participating in mitigation, preparedness, response, and recovery.

The Risk Management Officer shall provide personnel with basic knowledge of risk management and the objectives to be achieved. The Risk Management Officer informs the Director of all significant risk issues and provides factual information as, and when, appropriate.

Risk Management Strategies

The EOC shall apply risk management based upon the following strategies:

1. Assess damage and loss. Identify and analyze loss exposures in the categories of:
 - Personnel
 - Property
 - Liability
2. Examine feasible alternative risk management techniques in the following general categories:
 - Exposure avoidance
 - Loss prevention
 - Loss reduction
 - Segregation of exposures:
 - Separation
 - Duplication
 - Contractual risk transfer
 - Risk financing
3. Select the best apparent techniques
4. Implement the chosen techniques
5. Monitor and adjust as necessary
6. Provide for the overall safety and health of personnel
7. Advise on action to reduce loss and suffering
8. Advise EOC staff and response personnel.

Risk to Personnel

Management shall evaluate the risk to personnel with respect to the purpose and potential results of their actions in each situation. In situations where the risk to personnel is excessive, activities shall be limited to defensive and protective operations.

Declaring State of Local and / or Provincial Emergency

Declaration Not Needed For...

A Local Authority or the province NEED NOT declare a state of local emergency for the following:

- To implement part or all of their Emergency Response and Recovery Plan
- To gain liability protection under the BC Emergency Program Act
- To qualify for disaster financial assistance under the BC Emergency Program Act.

Declaring for Evacuation

Once it is apparent to the heads of the local emergency response organization that, in their best judgment, emergency conditions warrant an enforced evacuation, they should advise the heads of the Local Authority. The briefing to the heads of the Local Authority should include a recommendation that they issue a declaration, as well as the nature, extent, probability of loss, resources at risk, and geographic area.

Time permitting, consultation should occur between the local government authorities and the Director or Designate of the Provincial Emergency Program (PEP) prior to the declaration. The Director of PEP is also committed to consultation prior to issuance of a Provincial Declaration, whenever possible. The Director of PEP is responsible for briefing the Attorney General.

The prior consultation process should include the PREOC, if established, and any neighbouring local governments that could be impacted.

Additional Powers of Declaring

In addition to the power to order an enforced evacuation, declaring a state of emergency brings with it eight other powers, enabled by the BC Emergency Program Act. The Local Authority must monitor the implementation of these powers very closely for any possible misuse.

Steps in Declaring State of Local Emergency

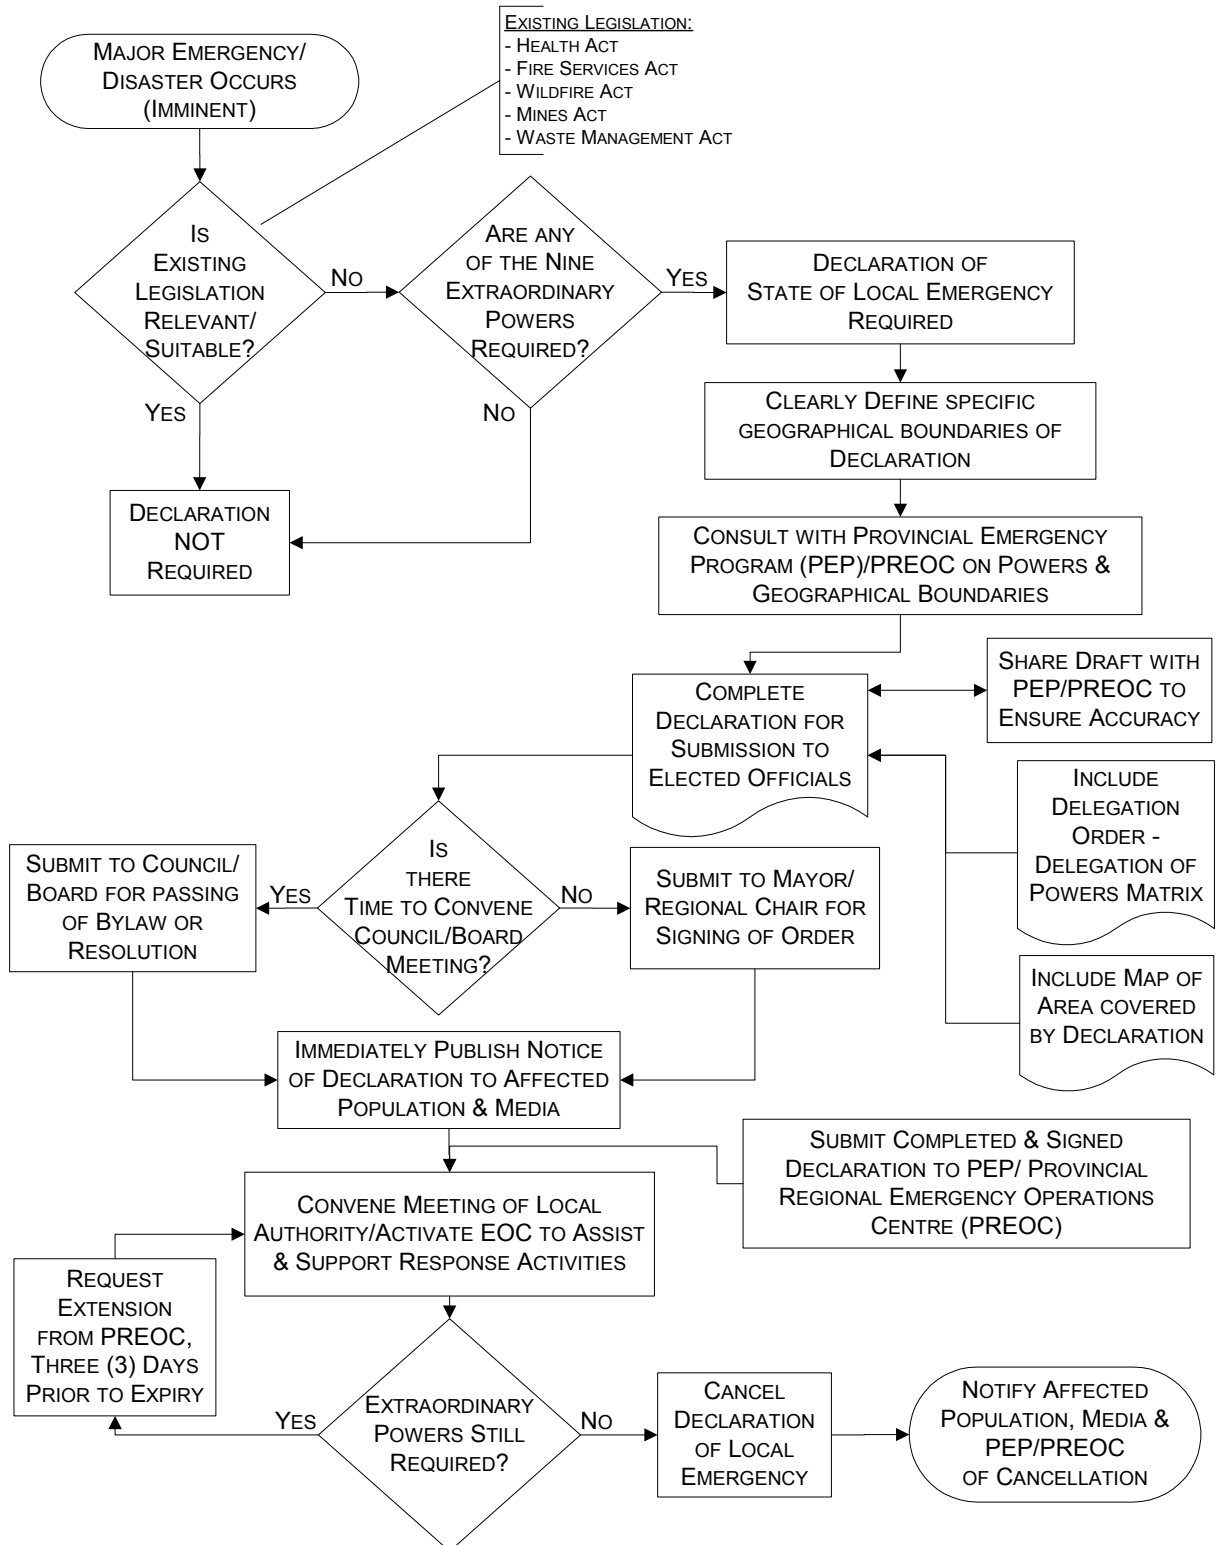

Section 12 of the Emergency Program Act allows Local Authority, or head of a Local Authority (Municipal Council or Mayor; or Regional District Board or Chair) to declare a State of Local Emergency if extraordinary powers are required to deal with the effects of an emergency or disaster. Steps to consider:

1. The Local Authority must be satisfied that an emergency exists or is imminent.

Declarations can be made in two ways:

- By bylaw or resolution if made by a Local Authority (e.g., Municipal Council or Board of Directors of a Regional District that has powers granted under the Act)
 - By order, if made by the head of the Local Authority (e.g., Mayor or Regional District Chair).
2. Before issuing a Declaration by order, the Mayor or Chair must use their best efforts to obtain the consent of the other members of Council or Board to the Declaration.
 3. As soon as practical after issuing a Declaration order, the Mayor or Regional District Chair must convene a meeting of Council and / or Board to assist in directing response to the emergency.
 4. The Declaration of State of Local Emergency form must identify the nature of the emergency and the area where it exists or is imminent. The Mayor or Chair, immediately after making a Declaration of State of Local Emergency, must forward a copy of the Declaration to the Attorney General, and publish the contents of the Declaration to the population of the affected area. A coordinated public information communications plan should be available for immediate implementation, following the declaration.
 5. A State of Local Emergency automatically exists for seven (7) days unless cancelled earlier. An extension of a State of Local Emergency beyond seven days must have the approval of the Attorney General. Steps 2, 3, and 5 above must be followed for each 7-day extension.

Local Authority

EMERGENCY DECLARATION PROCESS - Emergency Program Act

Cancelling a Declaration of State of Local Emergency

A Declaration of a State of Local Emergency is cancelled when:

- It expires after 7 days or any 7-day extension
- The Attorney General cancels it
- It is superseded by Provincial State of Emergency; or
- It is cancelled by bylaw, resolution or order.

Once it is apparent to the head of the response organization that extraordinary powers are no longer required and that the State of Local Emergency may be cancelled, they should advise the Mayor or Chair as soon as possible. If the Declaration is cancelled by resolution or order, the Attorney General must be promptly notified.

The Mayor or Chair must cause the details of the termination to be published by a means of communication most likely to make the contents of the termination known to the population of the affected area.

Steps in Declaring State of Provincial Emergency

Section 9 of the Emergency Program Act allows the Attorney General or the Lieutenant Governor in Council, by order, to declare a State of Emergency relating to all or any part of British Columbia. This declaration allows for a number of extraordinary powers that are detailed in the Act.

Steps to consider:

2. The Minister or Lieutenant Governor in Council must be satisfied that an emergency exists or is imminent. This is often based on the advice provided by the Director of PEP, who in turn may take advice from local authorities or a PREOC Director.
2. Once a Declaration is obtained, 12 extraordinary powers are granted to the Minister or Lieutenant Governor in Council. Some or all of these powers may in turn be delegated to designated people. This is known as the “written delegation of authority.” The PREOC Director should be prepared to accept some of these powers as the needs arise.

3. A provincial declaration automatically lasts for 14 days unless cancelled earlier, as opposed to a local declaration that is of 7 days duration. Both may be extended.
4. Where a local declaration is in place, should a provincial declaration be made, the local declaration is subject to the provincial declaration.
5. The requirement for declarations of States of Emergency should be considered extensively before proclaiming, and should be monitored very closely.

Evacuation Orders

Evacuation Authority

There are a number of ways to order an evacuation in BC and these vary from hazard to hazard. It is very important to understand the various methods and legal authorities.

Legal Authority “Acts”

- Emergency Program Act (Local Authority and Provincial Government, declarations)
 - Sections 12 (1), 13 (1) (b), 10 (1) (h)
- Fire Services Act (Office of the Fire Commissioner)
 - Section 25 (1)
- Wildfire Act (Protection Branch, Ministry of Forests)
 - Section 13 (1)
- Health Act

Other legislations also exist for some specific hazards / risks.

Flooding

During threat of flooding, enforced evacuations may only be ordered by:

- A Local Authority AFTER declaring a State of Local Emergency, or
- The Province AFTER declaring a State of Provincial Emergency.

In all emergencies, regardless of the threat, the community or jurisdiction is the first line of defence. The BC government supports community / jurisdiction response in all areas of the province.

Local Authority Evacuation Orders

To order an evacuation, a Local Authority must declare a State of Local Emergency,” as enabled under Section 12 of the BC Emergency Program Act.

When it is determined that an evacuation is required, the warning must be timely and accurate. While the main concern is the preservation of life, those displaced from their homes or businesses may be experiencing inconvenience, anxiety and fear.

Removing people from their homes and livelihoods must not be taken lightly. People will already be under duress during an emergency; however, public safety must be first. It is a delicate balancing act.

Provincial Evacuation Orders

Several agencies and jurisdictions have the legal authority to close areas and order evacuation. Regardless of who orders an evacuation, these Operational Guidelines follow the provincial standard of a three-staged evacuation process.

Evacuation Stages

Stage 1

Evacuation Alert

Evacuation Alert – A consistent format and process will be used to alert the population at risk of potential need for evacuation. The alert highlights the nature of the danger and that people should be prepared to evacuate the area. The Evacuation Alert may allow for the population at risk to begin an orderly preparation to voluntarily leave the affected area, within a specified time frame. However, the reality of the situation may require immediate action with very short notice.

Stage 2

Evacuation Order

Evacuation Order – The population at risk is ordered to evacuate the area specified in a formal written order. This is an order and as such does not allow for any discretionary decision on the part of the population at risk. They must leave the area immediately.

A statement must be included in all bulletins, pamphlets, warnings and orders that makes it very clear to all that, while the evacuation order is in effect, the area in question will have controlled access and that a pass may be required to regain access to the area.

Stage 3

Evacuation Rescind

Evacuation Rescind – The population at risk is allowed to return to the area previously evacuated, having been advised that the danger has passed.

There is the possibility that the danger may re-manifest itself and the Evacuation Alert or Evacuation Order might need to be reissued.

Please refer to the Evacuation Flowchart on page 1.11 for more details on the evacuation rescind procedure.

Evacuation Plans must deal with two distinct groups of people: the “population at risk” and the “host population” which will shelter the evacuees.

EOC Team Building

Team Building

One challenge an EOC faces is changes to the staff composition. Individual organizations and agencies sometimes have high turnover rates, so that new people must be brought “up to speed” on emergency management issues and integrated into their new EOC roles.

In addition, there may be changes in inter-agency teams. We must often meet and work with new people from other agencies on a task-specific basis. There is a trend toward “temporary” EOC teams or task forces, which come together to deal with a specific emergency event and dissolve when the event is finished.

As an EOC staff member, you may be required to work with experts brought in to supplement existing team expertise, perhaps with knowledge and skills pertinent to handling or planning a specific emergency.

The changes in team membership and the challenge of forging a sound working relationship in a “temporary” environment is an important mission and can be stressful. On the other hand, longstanding teams are sometimes burdened by “history” of poor relations that hinders effective teamwork. Each situation calls for careful attention to group process and applications of skills to improve process where needed to better accomplish the task at hand.

Whatever the circumstances, you need to know the principles of effective teamwork and help apply them, overcoming challenges such as:

- Temporary teams or task forces
- Changing leadership
- Changes in personnel
- Changes in agency involvement.

No matter what the nature of the EOC team, the same basic principles apply to effective teamwork.

Characteristics of Effective Teams

- Mutual trust takes a long time to build; yet it can be destroyed quickly. Unspoken “rules” in a team determine whether each member feels free to express his or her opinion about issues and to ask questions that may display ignorance or disagreement, without concern for retaliation or negative consequences.
- Mutual support results from group members having genuine concern for one another’s job welfare, growth and personal success. If mutual support is established in a team, members need not waste time and energy protecting themselves or their functions from others.
- Genuine communication has two dimensions – openness by the person who is speaking and equally open, unprejudiced listening by other members. Open, authentic communication takes place when mutual support and trust are well established that no member feels guarded or cautious about what to say.
- Accepting conflicts as normal and working them through must be a factor because individuals are unique. They differ from one another and will not agree on all things. A good team (where mutual trust, support and genuine communication are well established) accepts conflict as normal, natural and, in fact, as an asset.
- Mutual respect for individual differences must be present. In a goal-oriented team, some decisions require the commitment of all team resources and cannot be implemented without this commitment. However, a good team will not demand unnecessary conformity of its members.

Managing Conflict in the EOC

In any group, conflict is inevitable because people have varying perspectives and experience. The problems arise when someone denies the legitimacy of the other’s perspective, or when there is no attempt to consolidate and use what each individual knows and sees as part of the solution.

Since conflict is natural, the goal of EOC Directors, as in other groups, is not to eliminate conflict but rather to view it as essentially healthy if it is handled and resolved constructively. The EOC team is enhanced by exploring differences because new ideas and new learning result. Usually, when conflict arises and is dealt with openly, people are stimulated to creativity, alternatives are considered, better ideas come forth and a better course of action results.

The EOC Director and Deputy have the ultimate responsibility for providing a safe and healthy environment for EOC staff to work within.

Suggested Approaches to Solving Conflict

- Avoidance approach is simply to ignore the conflict or at least not put any attention into trying to do anything about it. In certain situations where the conflict is a trivial one, this might be appropriate.

This approach also carries the risk of the conflict not being resolved successfully within the desired timeframe, or even becoming larger so that it will take more skill and time to resolve.

- Giving it back to those involved differs from avoidance in that the parties involved are charged with determining the solution within a certain timeframe. However, it is important to monitor the situation and not assume it has been successfully resolved. Section Chiefs have the responsibility to monitor conflict that arises between their staff. It is up to the Section Chief to try and mediate a resolution and / or forward to the EOC Director or Deputy Director to handle.
- Imposing a solution (authoritative), the EOC Director / Deputy listens to both parties and unilaterally decides a solution, announces it to those involved, and makes sure they understand which solution has been chosen. This alternative may have to be used in a disaster situation when the time is short and the EOC Director clearly knows what solution he or she wants.
- Compromise is when all parties think over their side of the issue and their critical needs, and then identify and accept the minimum they can live with to resolve the conflict. The primary goal is to stop the conflict, rather than a thorough working out of the issues in order to keep something like this from happening again.
- Collaboration has each side working hard at stating their concerns, their goals, and their needs in the conflict situation, and then listens to the other party do the same in an attempt to work through the conflict to a genuinely satisfactory outcome.

The EOC will operate more effectively if the staff members interact as a cohesive team. There are a number of advantages to working in teams, especially in terms of productivity and creativity.

Teams also present their own challenges, particularly in terms of changing composition and priorities. Different methods of dealing with conflict are available, and each has its advantages when employed appropriately. Although the term conflict has negative connotations, it can be used constructively and creatively in many problem-solving situations.

The Psychological and Social Climate of the EOC

There are three principles of psychological support that you should be aware of in managing crisis operations:

- Effective Management. In a crisis people will seek and follow a leader who provides direction, inspires confidence and helps to structure an unclear, threatening situation. An EOC Director must demonstrate personal leadership and effective management by successfully organizing the EOC and carrying out major responsibilities.
- Interaction with Others. Empathetic, friendly interaction with others is an important part of successful psychological support.
- Goal-Oriented Behaviour. Persons under stress need to have something useful to do and need to understand how to do it. In assigning tasks, remember that stress affects everyone's performance. People under stress may tend to:
 - Act impulsively, with a feeling of urgency that is not appropriate to the task
 - Concentrate only on the immediate problem and forget the larger problems
 - Forget what they have been trained to do in the EOC, and fall back into pre-disaster patterns of a routine emergency response, and
 - Perform simple tasks better than complex, skilled tasks.

Managing Staff Under Stress

The EOC Director and Deputy must be constantly aware of the working conditions and stressful events that could affect EOC staff's ability to function. There are methods to help employees cope with stress.

- Debriefing. A debriefing is a useful process that can help emergency personnel cope with an incident. It is commonly held at the end of a shift to review operational procedures and identify immediate areas requiring attention and / or changes.
- Defusing. A defusing is a much shorter, less formal and less structured version of a critical incident stress debriefing (CISD). A defusing is held within 12 hours of the event, and usually lasts about 30 to 45 minutes. Qualified personnel manage it. The defusing only involves the most seriously affected members who experienced the emotional event. Its purpose is to allow the affected personnel to express their feelings and to prepare them to go back to work. A defusing is a short-term fix for an immediate reaction to a troubling event.
- CISD. Critical Incident Stress Debriefing is a group meeting, conducted in a confidential environment that provides a forum for individuals to vent their emotions and express their reactions to the event. Two major goals of a CISD are to reduce the impact of a critical event and to accelerate the recovery of people who have experienced a traumatic event.
- Post-Operation Debriefing. Soon after the EOC demobilization and response operation is concluded, the agencies involved will be invited to attend a formal debriefing with a view to improving response capabilities within the jurisdiction. To facilitate that meeting, which may not be attended by all EOC staff, it is important to ensure that significant operational information has been evaluated by the persons actively involved, and that an accurate written record of the operation has been preserved.

During the debriefing, "lessons learned" are recorded as well as participants' comments on the current plans and procedures implemented. If possible, representatives from supporting functional organizations, DOCs other EOCs and PREOC should be invited to the post-op debriefing.

Note

The EOC Director / Deputy should constantly check with section chiefs and / or monitor EOC staff for signs of stress. If a particular staff person appears distressed, take immediate action and do not delay if it is determined that the person should be relieved.

3 - Position Checklists and Aids

This Section provides checklists and flowcharts for all EOC Functions, Branches and Units required to staff the EOC in a major emergency.

It is important to note that not all positions are required for all emergencies and in some cases, one person may carry out the responsibilities of more than one position. Only those functions / positions that are needed to effectively handle the emergency should be staffed.

Position Checklists have been proven to be an effective tool during emergencies. They help guide staff who may not be familiar or practiced in their EOC role and provide useful reminders of items that should be done during an emergency. It is important that the entire Checklist be read through once before initiating action items.

As emergencies and exercises are reviewed, the applicability of the Checklists will be reviewed and revised as needed. The responsibility for this review lies with the EOC Director and the Emergency Program Coordinator for the jurisdiction.

URGENT EVACUATION PROCEDURES

The (Local Authority) Emergency Program and / or Emergency Operations Centre is urging residents affected by the recent (disaster – whatever it is) to be prepared to evacuate if ordered to do so by emergency officials in your area.

If you have to evacuate:

- Take an emergency survival kit with you (e.g., battery-operated radio, flashlight, water, food, warm clothing, etc.).
- Make sure you take prescription medicine and identification for the entire family.
- Listen to the radio and follow instructions from local emergency officials.
- Shut off water, gas and electricity, but ONLY if instructed to do so.
- Make arrangements for pets. Local emergency officials will advise you.
- Wear clothes and shoes appropriate to conditions.
- Lock up your home.
- Follow the routes specified by emergency officials. Don't take shortcuts. A shortcut could take you to a blocked or dangerous area.
- If you have time, leave a note telling others when you left and where you went.
- If you are evacuated, register with the local ESS emergency reception centre (as advised by emergency officials) so you can be contacted or reunited with your family and loved ones.

AFTER THE DISASTER (SAMPLE MEDIA RELEASE)

Having just experienced the shock and pain of a disaster, you will be very busy for the next few days or weeks. Caring for your immediate needs, perhaps finding a new place to stay, planning for clean-up and repairs, and filing claim forms may occupy the majority of your time. As the immediate shock wears off, you will start to rebuild and put your life back together. There are some normal reactions we may all experience as a result of a disaster. Generally, these feelings don't last long, but it is common to feel let down and resentful many months after the event. Some feelings or responses may not appear until weeks or even months after the disaster.

Some common responses are:

- Irritability / anger
- Fatigue
- Loss of appetite
- Inability to sleep
- Nightmares
- Increase in alcohol or drug consumption
- Fear of storms
- Sadness
- Headaches or nausea
- Hyperactivity
- Lack of concentration

Many people impacted by the disaster will have at least one of these responses. Acknowledging your feelings and stress is the first step in feeling better. Other helpful things to do include:

- ☐ Talk about your disaster experiences. Sharing your feelings rather than holding them in will help you feel better about what happened.
- ☐ Take time off from cares, worries and home repairs. Take time for recreation, relaxation or a favourite hobby. Getting away from home for a day or a few hours with close friends can help.
- ☐ Pay attention to your health, to good diet and adequate sleep. Relaxation exercises may help if you have difficulty sleeping.
- ☐ Prepare for possible future emergencies to lessen feelings of helplessness and bring peace of mind.
- ☐ Rebuild personal relationships in addition to repairing other aspects of your life. Couples should make time to be alone together, both to talk and to have fun.
- ☐ If stress, anxiety, depression or physical problems continue, you may wish to contact the post-disaster services provided by the local mental health contact.
- ☐ Please take this sheet with you today and reread it periodically over the next few weeks and months. Being aware of your feelings and sharing them with others is an important part of recovery.
