

We Need Your Help with Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) Surveillance

We are collecting elk, deer, and moose heads for CWD testing.

Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) is a fatal disease of the central nervous system that can affect members of the cervid family (deer, elk & moose). Sick animals show weight loss and changes in behaviour, including drooling, difficulty swallowing, poor coordination, stumbling and trembling. At this time, CWD has not been found in BC. The Ministry of Environment CWD Program is focused on preventing the entry of CWD into BC. If CWD enters BC, hunting will likely change forever – CWD is almost impossible to eradicate. If you see any cervid exhibiting signs of CWD - please contact us! <http://wlapwww.gov.bc.ca/wld/wldhealth.html>

Hunters are requested to submit heads for voluntary testing.
